There are times when faith must override apparent facts.

Our past efforts did not bring in the desired results; but that does not mean the path we were on lacked potential. It just meant, we must review our actions, reassess strategies and revamp our efforts.

And that's what we did. We knew for a fact that our direction was right; we were aware of the potential we held. All we needed to do was bring in the right keys to unlock that potential.

Hence, we welcomed the necessary paradigm shifts; we tweaked our strategies to gain the most leverage out of our efforts, we reorganised our plans and actions in a way that would fortify our performances and results in the future.

We are unlocking our potential in a way we know best with strategy, skill and stubborn persistence!

Unlocking potential

Of our denim business

Denim is a growing product. But our volumes dipped.

Denim is being bought everywhere. But we reported the largest loss in our history.

Our denim facility is one of the better units in India. But cut-throat competition forced us to throttle operations.

We resolved to challenge the state-of-affairs. We determined to change.

- Leveraged the outsourcing route to strengthen our competitive edge in an increasingly cluttered business space.
- Altered plant equipment, processes and people to improve product quality, increase the proportion of fresh fabric in the overall volumes has increased from 79% in 2017-18 to 85% in 2018-19 and to 90% by June 2019.
- Brought a design developer on board for developing premium designs.

Potential unlocking

These efforts have yielded interesting changes. Our plant, which operated at 65% between November 2018 and February 2019, is now operating at 100% utilisation (June 2019) and our outsourcing volumes have increased at a healthy pace. Our sales have been high, our product realisation in early 2019-20 is better than the 2018-19 average.

Unlocking potential

Of our fabric business

Fabric is a necessity. But our volumes stagnated.

Fabric is being consumed either directly or indirectly every day. But our topline languished at the same level for the last 3-4 years.

Our 'Mayur' brand is recognised and respected for quality. But our profitability dipped because offtake remained stagnant.

We decided to shake out of our comfort zone. We focused on stretching ourselves to expand our business. We were determined to grow and make it sustainable.

- Leveraged the outsourcing route to increase volumes and optimise costs which will facilitate in penetrating deeper into consuming markets.
- Entrenched our presence in the East and North-East markets which had remained relatively under-serviced upto now.
- Strengthened our business relations in the RMG and institutional segments to drive volumes.

Potential unlocking

We are confident that these initiatives will provide robust momentum to this stagnating revenue vertical. We remain hopeful of growing this vertical by more than 15% annually over the next two years.

Unlocking potential

Through cost management

Our costs were high. They were higher than the industry standards.

We noticed early signs of certain inefficiencies. They needed to be stopped immediately.

Our loss was a wake-up call to make amends, for if we did not do it now, it would never happen. And we decided to make the best of this reality.

We were leaders in the textile space. We made up our minds to attain and sustain the podium position once again.

- 💡 Reduced the team strength (white and blue collar) by not making replacements for people who exited the organisation.
- 💡 Entered into a long-term agreement for sourcing power at a reduced rate, which would significantly reduce the power cost.
- 💡 Partnered with a global consultant for reducing supply chain and other controllable overheads.

Potential unlocking

These efforts coupled with our value-addition initiatives should help in improving operational profitability going forward.

Unlocking potential

Through debt management

Debt is essential to grow. But when growth stutters, debt grows and grows!

Profits which were anticipated, did not happen. Moreover, when normal profits get eroded by debt servicing, the pressure compounds.

And this is what happened to us. Debt transformed our performance into a painful experience.

We made sure that we would infuse liquidity into the business. For in doing so, we would make the organisation increasingly solid. And this is what we did.

- ⚠ Liquidated our dead inventory in the fourth quarter of 2018-19, thereby reducing working capital loans; maintained disciplined monitoring of inventory and receivables to avoid any spike in working capital requirement.
- ⚠ Sold our investment in BEL to our Group Company which provided ₹85 crore; we will utilise these funds primarily for liquidating long-term debt.
- ⚠ Repay debt cumulating to ₹203.15 crore in 2019-20; it will improve our debt-equity ratio.

Potential unlocking

Our initiatives in deleveraging our financial commitments would definitely reduce our interest outgo and bring us back to winning ways in the current year.

The flagship company of the LNJ Bhilwara Group, RSWM Limited, is a leader in the domestic and international textile industry.

It is one of the largest manufacturers and exporters of synthetic and blended spun yarns from India.

Headquartered in Noida, the Company has three business verticals namely yarns, fabrics and denims which are manufactured at its eight facilities that house cutting-edge technology. Even as India is the key market, the Company enjoys a global footprint across 80 nations.

Spearheaded by Shri Ravi Jhunjhunwala, the Company's operations are managed by a team of dedicated professionals.

From the Chairman's desk

The bottomline then is ... we are seizing the day, to emerge stronger tomorrow; we are strengthening our core to make our business operations more flexible. And, we are working to break out of the challenges that held us back earlier.

Dear friends,

Fiscal 2018-19 was an outlier as it truly tested the robustness of the business model and the resilience of the organisation to withstand disruptive headwinds. While our yarn and fabric divisions were marginally impacted by the prevailing challenges, the strong and persistent headwinds in the denim space pulled the Company into the red.

I would have been happy had we reported a net profit, but I am not too perturbed with a loss. Because I believe in a simple philosophy – Change resides in every Challenge. Because, the challenge we face now - to get back on our feet - will help us to dispassionately unearth potential areas for unlocking value. And I am sure, that our team will orchestrate this transformation with speed. They have already started!

Unlocking potential

We had made considerable investments in the last 3-4 years in capacity augmentation, modernisation and technology upgradation. But these investments did not yield the anticipated results. Our turnover hovered around ₹3,000 crore mark over the same period. This, for me, has been our stumbling block.

Why did this happen?

1) A sectoral perspective: The textile sector has lost its momentum post demonetisation and the introduction of GST. In FY17, all segments within the textile sector registered a de-growth, except the Ready Made Garment (RMG) vertical which grew at a meagre 1%. In FY 18, all the segments performed better but the RMG space declined by about 1% which dealt a body blow to the textile sector. Market prices of all products in the textile value chain were significantly down owing to the competitive intensity prevailing in the domestic ecosystem. Margins got squeezed.

The energy in the team is high. The passion to get back to winning ways is visible. The buzz is palpable. These realities gives me the confidence that success is just round the corner.

Moreover, we could not divert our output to international markets as other global textile hubs namely Bangladesh, Vietnam, and Cambodia (which are protected by their Governments) emerged more competitive. As a result, considerable global growth opportunities got diverted to these nations.

2) An internal reality: Our edge in the intensely competitive sectoral space dulled a little. This was owing to the additional costs that got built into the system with multiple rounds of investments. Inefficiencies started creeping in. The debt burden expanded with each passing year. And the consequent interest liability eroded business margins.

I am happy to state that we have not only drawn the contours of our potential unlocking blueprint, but have also made some headway in implementing important initiatives.

We are cutting costs. We are improving man-machine productivity and enhancing product quality. We are actively considering the 'make-or-buy' strategy based on multiple parameters. We are developing niche products that can enhance value-addition. We are entering new market spaces. We are adding more customers. We are closely monitoring our working capital. We are implementing strategies to enhance our cash flow. All this is happening simultaneously.

The energy in the team is high. The passion to get back to winning ways is visible. The buzz is palpable. These realities gives me the confidence that success is just round the corner.

From a sectoral perspective, the opportunities are significant. Globally, trade wars arising out of protectionist policies by developed economies is creating interesting growth avenues for multiple sectors – textiles is one of them.

But the sector needs effective Government intervention, policies and legislations that allow domestic players to operate on a level playing field with global peers. When that happens, I am confident that the sector will witness robust growth and emerge as a true global textile hub.

At RSWM, the excitement is intense. For a number of things are happening at the same time, some are course corrections while others are new initiatives. The bottomline then is that we are seizing the day, to emerge stronger tomorrow; we are strengthening our core to make our business operations more flexible. And as we are working to break out of the challenges that held us back earlier, opinion makers suggest that sectoral tailwinds also herald promising times going forward.

Regards

Ravi Jhunjhunwala
Chairman

A discussion with the Managing Director on the Company's performance and prospects.

We will work to ensure that RSWM remains always relevant to the people we serve and to the changes taking place in our environment. Barring unforeseen developments, our dynamic team should ideally make FY20 an inflection point for RSWM and all its stakeholders.

The Company's performance remained subdued. What reasons would you ascribe for the same?

It was a subdued performance largely owing to the prevailing lacklustre environment in the domestic textile industry. While demand remained subdued, competitive pressure weighed on market prices. Further, volatility in raw material prices namely PSF and cotton yarn dented business margins. Even as the team worked relentlessly to overcome these challenges, significant headwinds in the denim sector pulled the organisation from the black to the red. Hence, even as revenue remained at the previous year level, we registered a net loss of ₹24.27 crore.

What went wrong with the denim unit?

Persisting oversupply in the domestic denim industry led to a substantial drop in prices. Moreover, volatility in the cotton yarn prices made matters worse for denim manufacturers who remained saddled with piling inventory. Business operations became so unviable that most denim manufacturers shut their operations. We also throttled manufacturing operations for nearly 4 months in the second half of 2018-19.

Is the demand in denim dwindling?

Demin is an interesting space. This fabric has evolved from being only teenage fashion to corporate attire. It is being worn by all toddlers to senior citizens. There is no dearth of demand. The issue lies in the huge capacities created in anticipation of demand leading to oversupply. This oversupply is largely pertaining to vanilla products, the niche value-added segment continues to grow at a healthy uptick.

What corrective action are you taking for recalibrating the denim vertical?

Fiscal 2019-20 is a new start for our denim unit. As a first step to make this a reality we eliminated the dead weight we were carrying – we sold off our inventory. We on-boarded an enthusiastic, experienced and energetic professional to head the denim business. We recruited a design developer for new product development. We have tweaked our processes to bring in stability to our operations. Our Grade A (fresh fabric) proportions has consistently been at 90% (in early 2019-20) against the fluctuating 75-85% band in 2018-19, which should help in superior realisation. We have prudently balanced our production planning between in-house and outsourced manufacturing to maximise profitability. The initial results from these efforts are satisfying as our infrastructure is operating at close to 100% utilisation and our sales volumes exceed our output.

The fabric business has remained largely range-bound. Is it going to be this way or are we looking at giving it a push?

Our fabric business has always been a flanking vertical. Its capacity, volumes and revenue have remained low. Going forward, we are committed to growing this vertical in a phased manner. We will leverage multiple options to optimise our cost structure. Even as we continue to entrench ourselves in existing markets, we will enter new markets with speed and dexterity. These efforts, I expect will fructify in growing our topline by more than 50% over the next two years. Hopefully, sectoral tailwinds will support our effort.

Let us turn to the yarn business. Could you give some colour on the performance of this vertical?

The domestic spinning sector remained challenging right through the year. It was a two-fold challenge. One, yarn prices continued the downward spiral owing to cut-throat competition. Two, substantial volatility in raw material prices like PSF and Cotton yarn saddled players with high cost inventory. As a result, margins were eroded and spinners incurred substantial losses. Some eminent names in the business were forced to shut operations. Having said that, I am satisfied that we were able to maintain stable operations throughout the year.

That is quite a feat...

It is a significant achievement. This transpired because we proactively envisioned this scenario and capitalised on the more stable and predictable export opportunities. Even though margins were compromised marginally, this strategy ensured that our shopfloor buzzed with activity and our cash box continued to ring.

What is your strategy to improve profitability moving forward?

Our strategy is summed in two words 'look inward.' And there are two reason for adopting this strategy:

One, while revenue is out of our hand as we are price takers and not makers, costs are in our hands.

Two, as India gets closely woven into the global village, only the lean-mean fighting machines (corporates) will survive and thrive.

And this loss could not have been more well-timed. From my perspective, I welcome this dip as it is a wake-up call for all of us. An alarm that has forced us to choose our path, one of carrying the traditional overburden or one where we shrug off complacency and sharpen our minds and bodies to take on the challenge with renewed spirit. And we have selected the latter.

We have identified and started weeding out inefficiencies in the system. We have started cutting the flab. We have trimmed down our weight. And this trend will continue for the current and the following year, till we reach an optimum mix of experience, energy and enthusiasm in the organisation. This then will catapult the organisation into a new orbit of efficiency and will make success sustainable. The initial results of this multi-pronged exercise have already started producing results.

What is your message to shareholders?

As India prepares to move a fast foot forward to higher efficiency, I continue to be in an optimistic mood. We will work to ensure that RSWM remains always relevant to the people we serve and to the changes taking place in our environment. Barring unforeseen developments, our dynamic team should ideally make FY20 an inflection point for RSWM and all its stakeholders.

Business in 2018-19

For RSWM, fiscal 2018-19 was a year of understanding and introspection. It was a period during which the Company reorganised its business strategies, restructured its team and realigned its operating processes to emerge as a leaner and fitter organisation. So despite reporting a subdued performance during the period under review, the Company ensured that it brightened its prospects of improving business profitability over the coming years.

Revenue vertical-1

Yarn

Performance in 2018-19

Overall production volumes were marginally lower than the previous year level even as the overall sales of yarn increased by more than 800 MT (domestic and exports). This was a considerable achievement for the Company in the face of a dulled sectoral ecosystem and high volatility in raw material prices.

The capacity utilisation was marginally lower than the previous year levels owing to multiple factors

- Reduced demand for dyed yarn which mandated production to be reduced.
- Modernisation of the Ringas facility.

In-plant initiatives: The Company completed the modernisation and expansion exercise at its Ringas facility at an investment of ₹55 crore which came into operation towards the close of 2018-19. This will help in improving machine productivity and product quality.

The Company intensified its cost optimisation drive with a key focus on reducing energy costs. For this, the team implemented a number of initiatives across all its operating facilities

- Installed Variable Frequency Drive (VFD).
- Replaced old inefficient compressors and pumps with superior variants.
- Arrested leakage of compressed air.
- Replaced conventional lights with LED lights.

The team worked patiently in tweaking processes to enhance machine productivity for certain specialty and high volume yarns.

In-market efforts: Despite the challenging condition prevailing in the domestic and global markets, the Company added new customers which helped in improving sales volumes. In the international market, the Company continued to expand its footprint to new demand pockets which helped in growing volumes.

The team developed more than 400 new yarn varieties (grey and dyed) which were well accepted by customers. Sale of value-added yarn and newly developed products improved by about 10% over the previous year. Its proportion in the overall sales increased by about 200bps over the previous year levels.

Prospects in and priorities for 2019-20

The challenges that impacted the spinning sector in the previous year are expected to continue in the current year, albeit with lesser intensity. The trade war and hence trade disruption, across the globe, among developed and developing economies are expected to open interesting growth opportunities. But the government will need to create a level playing field for India to compete with peers. In the domestic context, demand is expected to improve, players offering niche and relevant high quality products would be able to stand out of the clutter.

Despite the challenging circumstances, the Company is determined to strengthen its growth momentum over the coming years. For this it has prioritised on the following:

- Continue initiatives for eliminating inefficiencies in operations; maintain a disciplined control on inventory.
- Strengthen business relations with brands and large volume customers; focus on making significant inroads into the global markets.
- Focus on developing special products which are in high demand.
- Work on raw material re-engineering, to optimise cost and strengthen the Company's competitive edge.
- Focus on new user segments namely knitting, furnishing and shirting sectors.

This was possible owing to the teams' untiring efforts in increasing the wallet share with existing customers and adding new customers. Revenue from exports also increased marginally as the Company added new customers in new geographies which provided healthy volumes.

Fashion is an ever evolving space aligned to aspirations and trends. Since mélange belongs to the fancy yarn category demand will always grow but at a mature pace. The Company's success in this space is largely pivoted on its ability to assess global market trends and preferences early and develop products that align with them.

For 2019-20, the Company has drawn a strategic roadmap with a two-pronged approach –
1) product development and 2) maintaining superior quality output. This will enable the Company's products to gain greater global acceptance which should help in catalysing revenue and profitability.

Performance in 2018-19

The impact of GST and demonetisation continued to weigh on offtake for most part of the year. Hence, demand slowed. Further, the implementation of the e-way bill also impacted demand. Aligning with the prevailing market scenario, production volumes and hence capacity utilisation was lower than the previous year.

The Company focused on strengthening its presence in the Tier II and III towns – the new fabric consuming hubs as majority of the urban Indians altered their purchasing trend from fabric to readymade garments. The Company added distributors to its marketing channels and participated in retail conferences and melas to secure sales volumes.

From a product development perspective, the Company did not launch any new range owing to the tepid market conditions

Prospects in and priorities for 2019-20

The domestic fabric market is transitioning from the urban to the semi-urban as the urban Indian's preference towards readymade garments has increased (owing to availability, choice and paucity of time). From a supply perspective, cheaper imports from China and other neighbouring nations continue to hamper growth.

In the face of these challenges, the Company has drawn a comprehensive blue print for 2019-20 which includes:

- Focus on Tier II & III towns for marketing its products.
- Strengthen the connect with the RMG and school uniform segments in select geographies to scale volumes.
- Continue to prune costs and focus on prudent inventory management.
- Leverage outsourcing opportunities prudently to shore production volumes.
- Restart a new sub-collection VERONA in the market.
- Increase participation in wholesale and retail conferences to increase retail activity.

Prospects in and priorities for 2019-20

The domestic market continues to face severe fund flow disparity. The pricing pressure persists as brands and trade are not supporting a price increase. As such 2019-20 appears to remain challenging for the denim business.

Against this backdrop, the Company's strategy for 2019-20 is as follows:

Focus on value-addition

- Explore outsourcing options for manufacturing wider width products.
- Work on making differentiated products.

Continue to prune costs

- Change the cotton mix to optimise material costs.

- Improve in-plant efficiencies.
- Prudently utilise the job-work route.
- Stabilise the fresh fabric proportion at 90% plus.

Focus on prudent inventory management

- Complete liquidation of yarn and fabric inventory.
- Made to order only.

Growing sales volumes

- Focus on the brand segment to balance production capacity.
- Rebuild relations with big names in the domestic denim space.
- Source quality yarn for in-house value addition.

Build presence in the global market in select high growth nations.

Risk management

“Risk management should be an enterprise wide exercise and engrained in the business culture of the organisation.”

Julie Dickson

Risk management at RSWM is an integral part of the business model and focuses on making the organisation emerge stronger resulting in profitable business growth. The risk management framework encompasses strategy and operations and seeks to proactively identify, address and mitigate existing and emerging risks. This framework goes beyond traditional boundaries and seeks to involve all key managers of the Company.

Ecosystem risk

The domestic textile industry is facing significant headwinds that impede its growth momentum. These include challenges in the textile industry and considerable volatility in the raw material ecosystem.

Risk mitigation: RSWM is part of the same ecosystem as other players across the textile value chain. Hence, it has to face these challenges like every other player. But RSWM stands out in its response to these challenges. One, the Company has successfully created new growth opportunities (domestic and international) despite a subdued ecosystem. Two, it has adopted the lean strategy to identify and eliminate all wastages that have crept into the system. The Company is reducing the excesses in the organisation as part of its cost management exercise. These initiatives should help in minimising the downside during unfavourable conditions and would increase agility in making a faster rebound on a sectoral revival.

Capacity risk

Clothes are a basic necessity for life. Hence, the demand for fabrics over the medium-term will continue to increase. If the Company does not invest in capacity now, it may not have the capability to meet increasing demand when the sectoral trend reverses.

Risk mitigation: RSWM has made investments cumulating to ₹303.87 crore during the last four years (2016-17 to 2018-19) for capacity creation and modernisation. These investments have not yielded the desired returns owing to depressed market conditions. However, the Company is infrastructure ready for the uptick. Further, the Company has adopted the asset-light operational model for its fabric and denim verticals which allows it to meet any demand spike with ease.

Funding risk

Liquidity is the most important lifeline for any business. As operations expand, the need to keep the organisation liquid will become increasingly necessary. This would require maintaining a prudent balance between internal resources and external funds.

Risk mitigation: RSWM is aware of this reality. It is utilising this downturn well - one it has repaid debt of ₹668.04 crore in the last three years strengthening its leverage capability when required; two, it has institutionalised disciplined day-to-day management of inventories and receivables for optimising its working capital requirement; and, three it is focusing on growing the proportion of revenue from value-added products which should help in strengthening cash flow. Further, the asset-light approach adopted by the Company should reduce the need for funds for capital projects.

Management Discussion and Analysis

An economic overview

Global economy: A year that held significant promise for growing global economic activity ended on a rather subdued note. After strong growth in 2017 and early 2018, global economic activity slowed notably in the second half of last year, reflecting a confluence of factors affecting major economies. Trade tensions increasingly took a toll on business confidence resulting in worsening of the financial market sentiment which in turn led to a slump in global demand. What is even worrying is that the prevailing gloom is not expected to relent soon. Experts suggest that the weakness in global economic activity could persist in the first half of 2019. The World Economic Outlook states that global growth, which peaked at close to 4% in 2017, softened to 3.6% in 2018, is projected to decline further to 3.3% in 2019.

The World Economic Outlook projects a decline in growth in 2019 for 70% of the global economy

Indian economy: India's GDP declined for a second year in succession, from 8% in 2016-17 to 7.2% in 2017-18 and to 7% in 2018-19. Moreover, experts suggest that the Indian economy is on the brink of a slowdown.

This is because fiscal 2018-19 which was looked upon as a year of considerable promise did not live up to expectations. The economy slid with every successive quarter, from 8% in Q1 to 6.5% in Q4.

India's industrial production contracted by 0.1% in March, 2019, the lowest in 21 months, mainly due to manufacturing sector slowdown. On annual basis, IIP growth slowed to three-year low of 3.6% in the 2018-19 fiscal as against 4.4% in the previous fiscal.

Despite these grey clouds, the Indian economy had some positives. An improvement in the investment rate has been the most positive development in 2018-19, increasing by 0.3 percentage points to 28.9%. Moreover, growth in tax revenues (net of states' share) at 8.1% of GDP in 2018-19 facilitated in improving the Government's fiscal discipline. This, in turn, improved the combined fiscal deficit of the central and state governments – they are projected to reduce by 0.6 percentage points to 5.8% of GDP in 2018-19.

Estimates for 2019 and beyond: Asian Development

Bank and the RBI estimate GDP growth for 2019-20 at 7.2% (from the earlier projection of 7.4%) owing to the rising risks from global economic growth as well as weakening domestic investment activity.

According to Moody's, the Indian economy is expected to grow at 7.3% in calendar years 2019 and 2020.

The textile industry

The Indian textile industry is among the most important industries for the Indian economy considering its contribution to employment generation, industrial output, and foreign exchange earnings.

In India, the sector enjoys the presence of the entire value chain—fibre, yarn, fabric and apparel—apart from the availability of cheap and abundant labour. However, in spite of these benefits, India's share in the global textile exports is only minuscule.

Performance in 2018

The textile and clothing industry ended 2018 (calendar year) on a mixed note in both exports and the domestic markets, while expecting a revival in 2019.

International demand was largely muted because of the threat of the U.S.-China trade war and related uncertainties. The domestic market remained largely subdued; demand picked up in the first six months of 2018 but decelerated considerably towards the close of the year.

Increasing imports have been a significant cause of concern for the domestic textile industry. To protect the textile industry, the Government doubled the import tax on more than 300 textile products to 20% in October 2018 in an effort to curb rising imports from China. This was the second tax hike in 2018 after an increase on other products including fibre and apparel. This move is expected to provide relief to the domestic textile industry.

Government support to the textile industry

The Indian textile industry occupies a prominent place in India's economic development. Hence, the textile industry receives significant attention and resources from the Government through policy changes and allocations in the Union Budget.

Allocation in the Union Budget 2019

- The outlay for the textile sector has been pegged ₹5831.48 crore.
- Pegged the ROSL allocation at ₹1,000 crore
- Provided allocation for skill development and livelihood at ₹523 crore.
- Budgeted the A-TUFS allocation at ₹700 crore
- Announced 2% interest subvention for MSMEs loans with a ticket size of 1 crore to provide a thrust to MSMEs to boost employment and economic growth.
- Increased allocation for the interest equalisation scheme from ₹2,600 crore to ₹3,000 crore.
- Increased allocation for procurement of cotton by CCI under the price support scheme from ₹924 crore to ₹2018 crore.

to boost exports by US$ 31 billion, create one crore job opportunities and attract investments worth ₹800 billion (US$ 11.93 billion) during 2018-2020. As of August 2018, it generated additional investments worth ₹253.45 billion (US$ 3.78 billion) and exports worth ₹57.28 billion (US$ 854.42 million).

Going forward

Rising incomes and a growing middle class have been the key demand drivers

Manmade textile segment

The manmade textile industry is on the cusp of a turnaround with a revival in its demand towards the close of fiscal 2018-19, following producers' ability to fix prices of their products in the wake of stabilising crude oil prices.

Hitherto, manmade fibre and yarn manufacturers were reeling under pressure since demonetising of high-value currency notes followed by implementation of the GST regime. Before these two revolutionary steps, a large portion of manmade yarn and fabric business used to get transacted in cash which disappeared on their implementations.

This single factor (stabilising crude oil prices) has come as a major relief for the manmade textile industry, as it allows synthetic yarn, fabric and textile manufacturers to fix their product prices for the medium term.

PSF and cotton prices

PV and cotton yarn prices

The yarn segment

Cotton yarn

Being the largest cotton producer globally and the second most populous nation in the world, has enabled India to emerge as one of the largest cotton yarn manufacturers and exporters globally.

The prospects of the spinning industry are closely dovetailed to the prospects of the global textile industry as India exports close to a third of its yarn output to global destinations – China being a key importer of Indian yarn.

Performance: Fiscal 2019 started on a healthy note with a considerable surge in exports of cotton yarn to China which more than made up for subdued cotton yarn offtake in the domestic market. An uptick in Chinese exports was primarily owing to US-China trade disruption.

Looking ahead: Credible reports suggest that the cotton crop yields will hit a three-year low in the October 2018-September 2019 season.

Estimates from the Cotton Advisory Board point to the production of 36 million bales (one bale = 170kg) during the 2018-19 cotton season compared to 37 million bales in the previous year. Drought and uneven rainfall in Gujarat and Maharashtra are likely to pull down the average yield. A low yield implies lower output and higher cost of production. This could raise cotton prices and put spinning mills in distress.

However, spinning mills do not appear distraught as yet. This is primarily owing to the higher than normal cotton stock position at the end of the previous season which would act as a buffer for the current season.

Manmade fibres

India is the second largest producer of Manmade Fibre (MMF) and Filaments globally after China.

The MMF industry has been going through a lean phase for the last five fiscal years. In 2016-17 and 2017-18, factors such as sluggish demand, a sharp rise in imports, competition from cotton yarn, fall in realisation and temporary loss of production on account of demonetisation weighed on the industry.

Domestic MMF demand witnessed an uptick in 2017-18 on account of the release in pent-up demand post the demonetisation and GST implementation with consumption increasing by about 3.6% y-o-y in 2017-18 vis-à-vis a decline of about 7.5% witnessed during the corresponding period in the previous year.

However, increased availability of cotton (substitute) at competitive prices in the domestic market during the year restricted the growth. Production of MMF was pegged at around 2,506 million kgs in 2017-18.

MMF is primarily used to produce 100% non-cotton fabrics and blended fabrics, which are in turn used in readymade garments, home and other industrial textiles.

The domestic MMF industry mainly comprises of two components i.e., polyester and viscose, which together accounts for about 94%

(in volume terms) of the total. Under this, polyester accounts for about 77.5% while viscose accounts for the remaining share.

Polyester: Under polyester, polyester staple fibre (PSF) and polyester filament yarn (PFY) account for 43.6% and 55.7% shares respectively as in 2017-18, while Polypropylene Staple Fibre (PPSF) and Polypropylene Fibre Yarn (PPFY) make for the remaining of 0.2% and 0.6% respectively.

Due to higher availability of cotton in cotton season (CS) 2016-17, production of polyester registered a marginal decline of about 0.3% on a y-o-y basis. In 2017-18, polyester production further declined by about 1% y-o-y to reach 1,957 million kgs owing to muted demand. However, post-Q3/2017-18, demand marginally picked up and registered a y-o-y growth of about 1.5% in polyester consumption for 2017-18.

In 2018-19 (April – August), consumption registered a sharp decline of over 18% y-o-y on the back of higher prices. Crude oil prices during the period witnessed a sharp increase of over 47% thereby leading to a sharp increase in the input cost for polyester. Also, the higher availability of substitute cotton in the market at comparatively lower prices led to subdued demand for polyester during the period.

PSF and PFY prices witnessed an increase of about 11.4% and 6.8% respectively on a y-o-y basis in 2017-18 while cotton prices remained largely stable. Prices further registered a growth of over 19% and 17% during 2018-19 (April – October) period on the back of high input costs while cotton prices witnessed only a marginal increase of about 11% during the same period.

Viscose: Under Viscose, about 88% share is held by Viscose staple fibre (VSF) while viscose filament yarn (VFY) accounts for the remaining 12%. Viscose production in India was largely stable between 2013-14 and 2017-18 at around 400 million kgs registering a marginal CAGR of about 0.7% during the period.

In 2018-19 (April – August), VSF production grew sharply about 36.5% to 245 million kgs as compared to 180 million kgs in 2017-18 (April - October). VSF consumption remained largely stable over the period 2013-14 to 2017-18 at 300 million kgs. However, in fiscal 2018-19 (April - October), consumption registered a sharp increase of over 85% y-o-y to 218 million kgs as compared to 117 million kgs during the same period last year.

Denim industry

The denim wear segment has always been one of the leading segments in the apparel fashion industry around the world. Blue denim is one of the most ubiquitous wardrobe essential and has been so since decades. As a result, the Indian denim market promises unmatched value as well as volume growth.

The denim wear market in India is currently dominated by unorganised players. Their mindless capacity creation and the inward-looking tendency have substantially increased the competitive intensity in this business space.

However, with the entry of international brands and increasing penetration of Indian brands, the inclination towards branded denims is growing among consumers. In addition to volume growth, the value growth is expected to increase with rising demand for enhanced product attributes like fashion quotient, stretch and lightweight fabric, varying colours, styling and detailing.

Men's denim segment accounts for about 84% of the market while the women's and kids segments contribute 10% and 6% respectively.

Men's denim segment: Denim is considered to be one of the most versatile fabrics for men with multiple applications like casual wear, workwear, and everyday use.

Men's denim wear is poised to grow at a high CAGR of 12.7% over the next decade.

Until a few years ago, denim was popular with men in urban centres only. However, in recent years, it has become popular in the semi-urban and rural markets as well, due to growing awareness and social media penetration. This market segment would propel the growth of men's denim in the coming decade.

Women's denim segment: Among other denim wear products, jeans are the most popular among Indian women for its comfort, functionality and durability.

This mix and match style is gradually picking up, particularly among women in small towns hailing from a traditional background. Further, the increasing use of denim in upper wear for women is also gaining traction. These factors are likely growth catalysts for this segment. The women's denim category is expected to witness a growth of 13.1% during the period 2017-27.

Kids denim segment: This segment is expected to grow at an impressive 12% over the next decade, primarily due to the relatively higher fashion awareness among kids, product innovations, and design choices and higher spending on kids in nuclear middle-class families.

Growth drivers

In India, denim apparel consumption is expected to rise across all segments - men's, women's and kids. The incremental growth is especially expected in the mid-premium and premium/luxury segments.

Targeting rural and sub-urban consumers had until recently been a great challenge for the denim industry in India. However, recent trends have indicated increased penetration of the category across semi-urban and rural centres which should drive volume growth across mass market and unbranded segments.

Key factors that will drive the growth of denim wear are:

Low per capita jeans consumption: Per capita jeans consumption in India is much lower than that of developed markets, which provides an insight into the potential of the domestic market.

Young population: The youth (15 to 29 year olds) who comprise 26% of the consuming population, are a key growth driver of denim wear in the country. Increasing disposable income, comfort, quality and brand consciousness are major reasons behind the increasing acceptance of denims among the young population.

Growth of the organised retail sector: The denim wear market is dominated by unbranded denim products which constitute about 70% of the market. However, with many international and domestic brands offering denim wear at affordable prices, the inclination towards branded retail denim wear is expected to increase.

Shifts in consumer's wardrobe: The shift in consumers' wardrobe have propelled the growth for casual wear and denim wear in India. Changing sociocultural values, increasing exposure to international fashion trends and growing disposable income, will play a significant role in driving the growth of the denim wear segment.

Increased rural spending: Rural India is developing at a relatively rapid pace and a similar trend has been witnessed in rural spending. Percolation of mass media has increased their inclination towards western wear. This will lead to an increase in demand from the rural masses.

Online penetration of denim wear: Increased penetration of the internet coupled with the burgeoning smartphone market has resulted in the growth of e-tailing in India. Further, ease of ordering, the paucity of time and flexible return policies are among other factors that are catalysing online purchasing. Denim has been among the highest growth categories in fashion e-commerce. This trend is expected to continue over the coming years.

New denim fabric washes: Jeans manufacturers are focused on achieving different hues of blue by washing the fabric in certain dyes, bleaches or other agents that affect the denim colour. Dark indigo, faded blue/vintage/aged, stone wash and distressed jeans are new denim fabric washes in trend these days.

Growing popularity of tattered denim: The emergence of tattered denim has provided a perfect option for the fashion conscious youth. Distressed/ ripped/tattered denims are not restricted to only jeans but can be seen in jackets, shorts, skirts, etc. These innovations are among the most stylish must-haves for both men and women. This trend has been re-emerging in more styles every season.

Optimism and outlook

The denim wear market in India is expected to witness impressive growth over the next decade. With India's expanding economy, booming consumption, urbanising population and growing middle-class income, denim wear has a huge opportunity to grow.

The denim category accounts for a significant share of the casual wear market. The market size of the Indian denim segment is estimated at ₹23,076 crore in 2017. It is projected to grow at a robust CAGR of 12.7% to reach ₹41,947 crore by 2022 and ₹76,258 crore by 2027.

Operational performance

Business operations remained largely muted owing to the tepid demand as private consumption declined owing to uncertainty in the country. While yarn sales increased only marginally over the previous year, fabric and denim sales declined over the same period. Owing to reduced demand, capacity utilisation of most operating units remained sub-optimal for major part of the period under review. However, corrective action is being done which should help in resolving operational issues during the current fiscal.

Financial performance

Fiscal 2018-19 was a challenging period as the depressed external market put significant roadblocks in the Company's growth journey. Despite this reality, RSWM grew its topline, albeit marginally, from ₹2,943.09 crore in 2017-18 to ₹2,960.58 crore in 2018-19. This is an important achievement considering the shrinking market and increasing competitive intensity in the external world.

Business profitability was severely impacted owing to considerable volatility in raw material prices – cotton and polyester. As a result, EBIDTA declined from ₹263.08 crore in 2017-18 to ₹210.01 crore in 2018-19.

Rising interest cost owing to a large debt portfolio further weighed on business profitability as the Company reported a net loss of ₹24.27 crore in 2018-19 against a net profit of ₹14.50 crore in 2017-18.

Due to the loss in 2018-19, Return on Networth declined.

*In case of denim, oversupply from unorganised sector and mismatch between fabric manufacturing and garmenting resulted into significant drop in sales realisations. Overall sluggish demand in domestic as well as overseas markets resulted into a drop in sales realisations which led to negative margins.

The Company treats all its post-process water in its effluent treatment plant and further purifies it via reverse osmosis before returning it to the environment as clean as when used initially. The Company has also set up Sewage Water Treatment Plants. The treated water is used in plantation.

Recycle & waste management

RSWM proudly uses recycled yarns in its fabrics. Its state-of-the-art Garnett machine efficiently breaks down post-consumer waste fabrics and converts them into new usable fibres; the Company is weaving new fabric while eliminating excess waste from landfills. The Company is recycling 30 tonnes of used fabric every month.

Independent Auditor's Report

To the Members of RSWM Limited

Report on Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

Opinion

We have audited the standalone financial statements of RSWM Limited ("the Company"), which comprise the Balance Sheet as at March 31, 2019, the Statement of Profit and Loss (including Other Comprehensive Income), the Statement of Cash Flows and the Statement of Changes in Equity for the year then ended, and notes to the standalone financial statements, including a summary of the significant accounting policies and other explanatory information (herein after referred to as "standalone financial statements").

In our opinion and to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us, the aforesaid standalone financial statements give the information required by the Companies Act, 2013("Act") in the manner so required and give a true and fair view in conformity with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, of the state of affairs of the Company as at March 31, 2019, and the loss(including other comprehensive income), changes in equity and its cash flows for the year ended on that date.

Basis of Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Standards on Auditing (SAs) specified under Section 143(10) of the Act (SAs). Our responsibilities under those Standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Code of Ethics issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the standalone financial statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the ICAI's Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of the most significance in our audit of the standalone financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the standalone financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

We have determined that there are no key audit matters to be communicated in our report.

Information Other than the Financial Statements and Auditor's Report Thereon

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Management Discussion and Analysis, Board's Report including Annexure to Board's Report, Business Responsibility Report, Corporate Governance and Shareholder's Information, but does not include the standalone financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the standalone financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the standalone financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Management's Responsibility for the Standalone Financial Statements

The Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the matters stated in Section 134(5) of the Act with respect to the preparation of these standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view of the financial position, financial performance, changes in equity and cash flows of the Company in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS) and other accounting principles generally accepted in India. This responsibility also includes maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding of the assets of the Company and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the standalone financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the standalone financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those Board of Directors are also responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Standalone Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the standalone financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these standalone financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.

- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under Section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the ability of the Company to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the standalone financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the standalone financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the standalone financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the standalone financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the standalone financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of the most significance in the audit of the standalone financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Annexure B to the Independent Auditor's Report to the members of RSWM Limited

Report on the Internal Financial Controls under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act") as referred to in paragraph 2(f) of 'Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements' section

We have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting of RSWM LIMITED ("the Company") as of March 31, 2019 in conjunction with our audit of the standalone financial statements of the Company for the year ended on that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The Company's management is responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on "the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India". These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditors' Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Company's internal financial controls over financial reporting based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") and the Standards on Auditing prescribed under section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness.

Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the standalone financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the Company's internal financial controls system over financial reporting.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

In our opinion, the Company has, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2019, based on "the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India".

Notes to the Standalone Financial Statement

for the year ended March 31, 2019

1. Company Overview and Accounting Policies

1.01 Company Overview

RSWM Limited (the "Company") is a public limited company incorporated and domiciled in India and has its registered office at Kharigram, Gulabpura, district Bhilwara (Rajasthan, India). The Company has its primary listings on the BSE and NSE.

The Company is one of the largest textile manufacturing companies having multiple facilities to produce green fibre, yarn and fabric. The Company is primarily producing the best quality of yarns like synthetic, blended, mélange, cotton, speciality and value added yarns suitable for suitings, shirtings, hosiery, carpet, denim, technical textiles and industrial applications and denim fabric, synthetic fabric for renowned brands.

The financial statements of the Company for the year ended March 31, 2019 are approved for issue by the Company's Board of Directors on May 21, 2019.

1.02 Basis of Preparation of Financial Statements

The financial statements are prepared in accordance with Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS), as prescribed under section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 ('Act') (to the extent notified) read with the Rules 3 of the Companies (Indian Accounting Standard) Rules 2015, as amended from time to time and guidelines issued by the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI). The financial statements are prepared on going concern, accrual and historical cost basis except for the following assets and liabilities which have been measured at fair value:

- Defined benefit plans-plan assets measured at fair value.
- Assets classified as held for sale measured at fair value less cost to sell.
- Certain financial assets and liabilities measured at fair value (including derivative financial instruments) (Refer Accounting policy para 1.10 regarding financial instruments).

Accounting policies have been consistently applied except where a newly issued accounting standard is initially adopted or a revision to an existing accounting standard requires a change in the accounting policy hitherto in use.

The financial statements are presented in ₹ which is also the Company's functional currency and all values are rounded to the nearest ₹ in Lakhs, except where otherwise indicated.

(a) Use of Estimates

The preparation of the financial statements in conformity with Ind AS requires management to make estimates, judgments and assumptions. These estimates, judgments and assumptions affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the period. Application of accounting policies that require critical accounting estimates involving complex and subjective judgments and the use of assumptions in these financial statements have been disclosed in Note 2.

Accounting estimates could change from period to period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Appropriate changes in estimates are made as management becomes aware of changes in circumstances surrounding the estimates. Changes in estimates are reflected in the financial statements in the period in which changes are made and, if material, their effects are disclosed in the notes to the financial statements.

(b) Classification of Assets and Liabilities as Current and Non-Current

All Assets and Liabilities have been classified as current or non-current. Based on the nature of product and activities of the Company and their realization in cash and cash equivalent, the Company has determined its operating cycle as 12 months for the purpose of current and non-current classification of assets and liabilities.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are classified as non-current assets and liabilities.

1.03 Revenue Recognition

The Company has adopted Indian Accounting Standard 115 (Ind AS 115) -'Revenue from contracts with customers' effective from April 1, 2018. The policy hitherto adopted by the Company was also similar to that of the provisions of Ind AS 115 and hence, the effect on adoption of the same is insignificant.

Revenue is recognised to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Company and the revenue can be reliably measured regardless of when the payment made.

The specific recognition criteria described below must also be met before revenue is recognized.

Notes to the Standalone Financial Statement

for the year ended March 31, 2019

Revenue from Sale of goods and services

The Company derives revenue primarily from sale of Yarn, Fabric and other textile products.

Revenue from contracts with customers is recognized when the Company satisfies performance obligation by transferring promised goods or services to the customer or to his designated agent. Performance obligation is satisfied when the Company transfers significant risks and rewards to the customer and ceases its control over the goods.

Revenue is measured based on the transaction price, which is the consideration, adjusted for volume discounts, rebates, scheme allowances, price concessions and incentives, if any, as specified in the contracts with the customers. Revenue excludes taxes collected from customers on behalf of the government. Payments from customers for the goods and services rendered are normally received within the credit terms as per the contracts with the customers.

The Company recognizes sales return only when the goods are actually returned by the customer. Therefore, a refund liability which is included in current financial liabilities or is reduced from current financial assets, is recognized for the goods actually returned.

Revenue from sale of goods is recognized at the point of time when the significant risks and rewards are transferred to the customer and the Company ceases to have its control over the goods.

Revenue from job work charges is recognised at a point of time when the control is transferred usually when the material is fully processed and dispatched to customers.

Incentives on exports and other Government incentives related to operations are recognized in books after due consideration of certainty of utilization/receipt of such incentives. For Government Grant refer Para 1.04.

Interest income

Interest income on debt instruments measured at amortized cost is recorded using the Effective Interest Rate method (EIR).

EIR is the rate that exactly discounts the estimated future cash payments or receipts over the expected life of the financial instrument or a shorter period, where appropriate, to the gross carrying amount of the financial asset or to the amortised cost of a financial liability. While calculating the effective interest rate, the Company estimates the expected cash flows by considering all the contractual terms of the financial instrument (for example, prepayment, extension, call and similar options) but does not consider the expected credit losses. Interest income is included in other income in the statement of profit and loss.

Dividend Income

Dividend income is recognized in the statement of profit and loss when the right to receive payment is established, which is generally when shareholders approve the dividend or Board of Directors of the investee company approve the interim dividend.

Rental Income

Rental income arising from leases on investment properties is accounted for on a straight-line basis except where the rentals are structured to change in line with expected general inflation over the lease terms.

Contract balances

Contract assets: A contract asset is the right to consideration in exchange for goods or services transferred to the customer. If the Company performs by transferring goods or services to a customer before the customer pays consideration or before payment is due, a contract asset is recognized for the earned consideration.

Trade receivables: A receivable represents the Company's right to an amount of consideration that is unconditional (i.e., only the passage of time is required before payment of the consideration is due).

Contract liabilities: A contract liability is the obligation to transfer goods or services to a customer for which the Company has received consideration from the customer. If a customer pays consideration before the Company transfers goods or services to the customer, a contract liability is recognized when the payment is made. Contract liabilities are recognized as revenue when the Company performs under the contract.

Cost to obtain a contract: The cost to obtain a contract is normally the sales commission which the Company pays to its selling agents. Since, the amortization period of the goods for which the Company incurs such cost, is one year or less than that, the Company expenses it off immediately and the same is included in selling expenses under the head, 'Other Expenses'.

Notes to the Standalone Financial Statement

for the year ended March 31, 2019

1.04 Government Grants and Government Assistance

Government grants/subsidies are recognised where there is reasonable assurance that the grant will be received and all attached conditions will be complied with. If the grants/subsidies relate to an expense item, they are recognised as income on a systematic basis over the periods that the related costs, for which they are intended to compensate, are expensed. The grants, whose primary condition requires the Company to purchase, construct or otherwise acquire long-term assets, are recognised as deferred income and they are recognised as income in equal amounts over the expected useful lives of the related assets. If the grants/subsidies are related to subvention of a particular expense, are deducted from that expense in the year of recognition of government grants/subsidies.

1.05 Inventory Valuation

Inventories including goods-in-transit are measured at lower of cost and net realizable value. However, raw material (Including packing material), and other items held for use in the production of inventories are not written down below cost if the finished products in which they will be incorporated are expected to be sold at or above cost.

Costs incurred in bringing each product to its present location and condition are accounted for as follows:-

Raw materials (including packing material) stores and spares and loose tools: cost includes cost of purchase and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Cost is determined on weighted average basis.

Finished goods and work in progress: cost includes cost of direct materials and labour and a proportion of manufacturing overheads based on the normal operating capacity, but excluding borrowing costs. Cost is determined on weighted average cost basis.

Traded goods: cost includes cost of purchase and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition. Cost is determined on weighted average basis.

Waste: is valued at net realisable value.

Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

1.06 Property, Plant and Equipment

Recognition and measurement

Property, Plant and Equipment acquired are stated at original cost net of tax/duty credit availed, less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Such cost includes the cost of replacing part of the plant and equipment and borrowing costs for long-term construction projects, if the recognition criteria are met. The cost includes its purchase price, including import duties and non-refundable purchase taxes, after deducting trade discounts and rebates. It includes other costs directly attributable to bringing the Property, Plant and Equipment to the location and condition necessary for it to be capable of operating in the manner intended by management.

The present value of the expected cost for the decommissioning of Property, Plant and Equipment after its use is included in the cost of the respective Property, Plant and Equipment if the recognition criteria for a provision are met.

Capital work-in-progress includes cost of Property, Plant and Equipment under installation/under development as at the Balance Sheet date. Advances paid towards the acquisition of Property, Plant and Equipment outstanding at each balance sheet date is classified as capital advances under other non-current assets and the cost of Property, Plant and Equipment not available for use before such date are disclosed under 'Capital work-in-progress'.

Subsequent expenditure

Subsequent expenditures relating to Property, Plant and Equipment is capitalized only when it is probable that future economic benefits associated with these will flow to the Company and the costs of the item can be measured reliably. The cost and related accumulated depreciation are eliminated from the financial statements upon sale or retirement of the Property, Plant and Equipment and the resultant gain or losses are recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

Depreciation

Depreciation on Property, Plant and Equipment is calculated on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful life of Property, Plant and Equipment which coincide with Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013. Estimated useful life of the assets is given below:

Notes to the Standalone Financial Statement

for the year ended March 31, 2019

Building	5 to 60 years
Plant and Equipment	3 to 30 years
Furniture and Fixtures	10 years
Office Equipment	3 to 6 years
Vehicles	8 to 10 years
Electrical Fittings	10 years

The Company has estimated the useful life different from life prescribed in Schedule II in the following cases:-

S. No.	Nature of Property, Plant and Equipment	Effective Useful Lives
1	Property, Plant and Equipment of Textile Division and Water Supply	9 years 2 months
2	Property, Plant and Equipment used in Power Generation	18 years

The Company, based on technical assessment/management estimate, depreciates all items of Property, Plant and Equipment over estimated useful lives which may be different from the useful life prescribed in Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013. The management believes that these estimated useful lives are realistic and reflect fair approximation of the period over which the Property, Plant and Equipment are likely to be used.

De-recognition

An item of Property, Plant and Equipment and any of their significant part initially recognised, is derecognised upon disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected from its use or disposal. Any gain or loss arising on de-recognition of the asset (calculated as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the Property, Plant and Equipment) is included in the statement of profit and loss, when the Property, Plant and Equipment is derecognised. Depreciation on additions to or on disposal of Property, Plant and Equipment is calculated on pro-rata basis i.e. from (up to) the date on which the Property, Plant and Equipment is available for use (disposed off).

The Property, Plant and Equipment's residual values, useful life and methods of depreciation are reviewed at each financial year end and adjusted prospectively, if appropriate. The useful lives and residual values are determined by the management at the time the Property, Plant and Equipment is acquired and reviewed periodically, including at each financial year end. These lives are based on historical experience with similar Property, Plant and Equipment as well as anticipation of future events.

Leased Assets

Leasehold lands are amortized over the period of lease, Buildings constructed on leasehold land are depreciated based on the useful life of 5 to 60 years, where the lease period of land is beyond the life of the building.

1.07 Investment Properties

Investment Property is property held either to earn rental income or capital appreciation or for both, but not for sale in the ordinary course of business, use in production or supply of goods or services or for administration purposes.

Recognition and measurement

Investment properties are measured initially at cost, including transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, investment properties are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment loss, if any.

Depreciation

Depreciation is provided over the estimated useful life of the investment property which may be different from the useful life prescribed in Schedule II to the Companies Act, 2013.

De-recognition

Investment properties are derecognized either when they have been disposed of or when they are permanently withdrawn from use and no future economic benefit is expected from their disposal. The difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset is recognised in the statement of profit and loss in the period of de-recognition.

Though, the Company measures investment property using cost based measurement, the fair value of investment property is disclosed in the notes. Fair values are determined by independent valuer who holds a recognised and relevant professional qualification and has recent experience in the location and category of investment being valued.

1.08 Intangible Assets

Recognition and measurement

An Intangible Assets is recognised when it is probable that the expected future economic benefits that are attributable to the asset will flow to the entity and the cost of the asset can be measured reliably. All other expenditure is expensed as incurred.

Intangible assets acquired separately are measured on initial

for the year ended March 31, 2019

recognition at cost. Subsequent to initial recognition, intangible assets are carried at cost less any accumulated amortization and accumulated impairment losses.

The cost of a separately acquired intangible asset comprises of its purchase price, including import duties and non-refundable purchase taxes, after deducting trade discounts and rebates; and any directly attributable cost of preparing the asset for its intended use.

Internally generated intangibles, excluding capitalised development costs, are not capitalised and the related expenditure is reflected in the statement of profit and loss in the period in which the expenditure is incurred.

Goodwill acquired and/or arising upon business combinations, initially recognized at cost and at subsequent period at cost less accumulated impairment loss, if any.

Amortization

The useful lives of intangible assets are assessed as either finite or indefinite. The amortisation period and the amortisation method for an intangible asset with a finite useful life are reviewed at least at the end of each reporting period. Changes in the expected useful life or the expected pattern of consumption of future economic benefits embodied in the asset are considered to modify the amortisation period or method, as appropriate, and are treated as changes in accounting estimates.

Intangible assets with finite lives are amortised over the useful economic life and assessed for impairment whenever there is an indication that the intangible asset may be impaired. The amortisation expense on intangible assets with finite lives is recognised in the statement of profit and loss unless such expenditure forms part of carrying value of another asset.

Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are not amortised, but are tested for impairment annually, either individually or at the cash-generating unit level.

The estimated useful life of the finite intangible assets is given below:

Sr. no.	Nature of Assets	Effective Useful Lives	Amortization method used
1.	Intangible Assets acquired	6 years	Amortized on a Straight Line Basis over the useful life
2.	Intangible Assets being right to use	18 years 4 months

An intangible asset is derecognised on disposal or when no future economic benefit is expected from use or disposal. Gains or losses arising from de-recognition of an intangible asset are measured as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset and are recognised in the statement of profit and loss when the asset is derecognised.

Research and development costs

Research costs are expensed as incurred. Development expenditures on an individual project are recognised as an intangible asset when the Company can demonstrate:

- The technical feasibility of completing the intangible asset so that the asset will be available for use or sale
- Its intention to complete and its ability and intention to use or sell the asset
- How the asset will generate future economic benefits
- The availability of resources to complete the asset
- The ability to measure reliably the expenditure during development

Following initial recognition of the development expenditure as an asset, the asset is carried at cost less any accumulated amortisation and accumulated impairment losses. Amortisation of the asset begins when development is complete and the asset is available for use. It is amortised over the period of expected future benefit. Amortisation expense is recognised in the statement of profit and loss unless such expenditure forms part of carrying value of another asset.

During the period of development, the asset is tested for impairment annually.

1.09 Leases

The determination of whether an arrangement is (or contains) a lease is based on the substance of the arrangement at the inception of the lease. The arrangement is, or contains, a lease if fulfilment of the arrangement is dependent on the use of a specific asset or assets and the arrangement conveys a right to use the asset or assets, even if that right is not explicitly specified in an arrangement.

Where the Company is the lessee

A lease is classified at the inception date as a finance lease or an operating lease. A lease that transfers substantially all the risks and rewards incidental to ownership to the Company is classified as a finance lease.

Notes to the Standalone Financial Statement

for the year ended March 31, 2019

Finance leases are capitalised at the commencement of the lease at the inception date fair value of the leased property or, if lower, at the present value of the minimum lease payments. Lease payments are apportioned between finance charges and reduction of the lease liability so as to achieve a constant rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability. Finance charges are recognised in finance costs in the statement of profit and loss, unless they are directly attributable to qualifying assets, in which case they are capitalized in accordance with the Company's general policy on the borrowing costs.

A leased asset is depreciated over the useful life of the asset. However, if there is no reasonable certainty that the Company will obtain ownership by the end of the lease term, the asset is depreciated over the shorter of the estimated useful life of the asset and the lease term.

Operating lease payments are recognised as an expense in the statement of profit and loss on a straight-line basis over the lease term unless such payments are structured to increase in line with expected general inflation to compensate for the lessor expected inflationary cost increase. Lease Incentives received are recognised as an integral part of the total lease expense over the lease term.

Where the Company is the lessor

Leases in which the Company does not transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of an asset are classified as operating leases. Rental income from operating lease is recognised on a straight-line basis over the term of the relevant lease. Initial direct costs incurred in negotiating and arranging an operating lease are added to the carrying amount of the leased asset and recognised over the lease term on the same basis as rental income. Contingent rents are recognised as revenue in the period in which they are earned.

Leases are classified as finance leases when substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership transfer from the Company to the lessee. Amounts due from lessees under finance leases are recorded as receivables at the Company's net investment in the leases. Finance lease income is allocated to accounting periods so as to reflect a constant periodic rate of return on the net investment outstanding in respect of the lease.

1.10 Financial Instruments

A financial instrument is any contract that gives rise to a financial asset of one entity and a financial liability or equity instrument of another entity.

Financial assets

Initial recognition and measurement

All financial assets are recognised initially at fair value plus, in the case of financial assets not recorded at fair value through the statement of profit and loss, transaction costs that are attributable to the acquisition of the financial asset. Purchases or sales of financial assets that require delivery of assets within a time frame established by regulation or convention in the market place (regular way trades) are recognised on the trade date, i.e., the date that the Company commits to purchase or sell the assets.

Subsequent measurement

For purposes of subsequent measurement, financial assets are classified in below mentioned categories:

- Financial assets carried at amortised cost-debt
- Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income –equity
- Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income –debt
- Financial assets at fair value through the statement of profit and loss

(i) Financial assets carried at amortised cost-debt

A financial asset is subsequently measured at amortised cost, if it is held within a business model whose objective is to hold the asset in order to collect contractual cash flows and the contractual terms of the financial asset give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

(ii) Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income –equity

The Company measures all its equity investments except for investment in subsidiaries and associates, at fair value. Where the Company's management has opted to present fair value gain and losses on equity investments in Other Comprehensive Income, there is no subsequent reclassification of fair value gains and losses to the statement of profit and loss. Dividend income from such investments is recognized in the statement of profit and loss as other income when the Company's right to receive payments is established.

Notes to the Standalone Financial Statement

for the year ended March 31, 2019

(iii) Financial assets at fair value through other comprehensive income –debt

A ‘debt instrument’ is classified as at the FVTOCI if both of the following criteria are met:

- a) The objective of the business model is achieved both by collecting contractual cash flows and selling the financial assets, and
- b) The asset’s contractual cash flows represent SPPI.

Debt instruments included within the FVTOCI category are measured initially as well as at each reporting date at fair value. Fair value movements are recognized in the Other Comprehensive Income (OCI). However, the Company recognizes interest income, impairment losses and reversals and foreign exchange gain or loss in the statement of profit and loss. On de-recognition of the asset, cumulative gain or loss previously recognised in OCI is reclassified from the equity to statement of profit and loss. Interest earned while holding FVTOCI debt instrument is reported as interest income using the EIR method.

(iv) Financial assets at fair value through the statement of profit and loss

A financial asset which is not classified in any of the above categories, are subsequently fair valued through the statement of profit and loss.

Trade Receivable

A Receivable is classified as a ‘trade receivable’, if it is in respect to the amount due from customers on account of goods sold or services rendered in the ordinary course of business. Trade receivables are recognised initially at fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less provision for impairment. For some trade receivables, the Company may obtain security in the form of guarantee, security deposit or letter of credit which can be called upon if the counterparty is in default under the terms of the agreement. Subsequent recoveries of amounts previously written off are credited to other income.

De-recognition

The Company derecognizes a financial asset when the contractual rights to receive the cash flows from the financial asset expire or it transfers the financial asset and the transfer qualifies for de-recognition under Ind AS 109.

Impairment of Financial Assets

The Company recognizes loss allowances using the expected credit loss (ECL) model for the financial assets which are not fair valued through the statement of profit and loss. Loss allowance for trade receivables with no significant financing component is measured at an amount equal to lifetime ECL. For all other financial assets, expected credit losses are measured at an amount equal to the 12-month ECL, unless there has been a significant increase in credit risk from initial recognition in which case those are measured at lifetime ECL. The amount of expected credit losses (or reversal) that is required to adjust the loss allowance at the reporting date to the amount that is required to be recognized, is recognized as an impairment gain or loss in the statement of profit and loss.

Financial liabilities

Initial recognition and measurement

All financial liabilities are recognized initially at fair value and, in the case of loans and borrowings and payables, net of directly attributable transaction costs.

The Company’s financial liabilities include trade and other payables, loans and borrowings including bank overdrafts and derivative financial instruments.

Subsequent Measurement

The measurement of financial liabilities depends on their classification, as described below:

(a) Loans and borrowings

After initial recognition, interest-bearing loans and borrowings are subsequently measured at amortized cost using the EIR method. Gains and losses are recognized in the statement of profit and loss when the liabilities are derecognized as well as through the EIR amortization process.

Amortized cost is calculated by taking into account any discount or premium on acquisition and fees or costs that are an integral part of the EIR. The EIR amortization is included as finance costs in the statement of profit and loss.

(b) Trade and other payables.

A payable is classified as ‘trade payable’ if it is in respect of the amount due on account of goods purchased or services received in the normal course of business. These amounts represent liabilities for goods and services provided to the Company prior to the end of financial year which are unpaid.

Notes to the Standalone Financial Statement

for the year ended March 31, 2019

Trade and other payables are presented as current liabilities unless payment is not due within 12 months after the reporting period. They are recognised initially at their fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

(c) Financial guarantee contracts

Financial guarantee contracts issued by the Company, are those contracts that require a payment to be made to reimburse the holder for a loss if incurs because the specified debtor fails to make a payment when due in accordance with the terms of a debt instrument. If material, financial guarantee contracts are recognised initially as a liability at fair value, adjusted for transaction costs that are directly attributable to the issuance of the guarantee. Subsequently, the liability is measured at the higher of the amount of loss allowance determined as per impairment requirements of Ind-AS 109 and the amount recognised less cumulative amortization.

De-recognition

A Financial Liability is de-recognized when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expired. The difference between the carrying amount of a financial liability that has been extinguished or transferred to another party and the consideration paid, including any non-cash assets transferred or liabilities assumed, is recognised in the statement of profit and loss as other income or finance costs.

Embedded derivative

An embedded derivative is a component of a hybrid (combined) instrument that also includes a non-derivative host contract – with the effect that some of the cash flows of the combined instrument vary in a way similar to a stand-alone derivative. An embedded derivative causes some or all of the cash flows that otherwise would be required by the contract to be modified according to a specified interest rate, financial instrument price, commodity price, foreign exchange rate, index of prices or rates, credit rating or credit index, or other variable, provided in the case of a non-financial variable that the variable is not specific to a party to the contract.

If the hybrid contract contains a host that is a financial asset within the scope Ind-AS 109, the Company does not separate embedded derivatives. Rather, it applies the classification requirements contained in Ind-AS 109 to the entire hybrid contract. Derivatives embedded in all other host contracts are accounted for as separate derivatives and recorded at fair value if their economic characteristics and risks are not closely related to those of the host contracts and the host contracts are not held for trading or designated at fair value through the statement of profit and loss. These embedded derivatives are measured at fair value with changes in fair value recognized in the statement of profit and loss, unless designated as effective hedging instruments.

Reclassification of financial assets and financial liabilities

The Company determines classification of financial assets and liabilities on initial recognition. After initial recognition, no reclassification is made for financial assets which are equity instruments and financial liabilities. For financial assets which are debt instruments, a reclassification is made only if there is a change in the business model for managing those assets. Changes to the business model are expected to be infrequent. The Company's senior management determines change in the business model as a result of external or internal changes which are significant to the Company's operations. Such changes are evident to external parties. A change in the business model occurs when the Company either begins or ceases to perform an activity that is significant to its operations. If the Company reclassifies financial assets, it applies the reclassification prospectively from the reclassification date which is the first day of the immediately next reporting period following the change in business model. The Company does not restate any previously recognised gains, losses (including impairment gains or losses) or interest.

Offsetting of financial instruments

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount is reported in the balance sheet if there is a currently enforceable legal right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, to realize the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously.

1.11 Impairment of Non-Financial Assets

Intangible assets, property, plant and equipment and associate measured at cost and other non-financial assets are evaluated for recoverability whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. For the purpose of impairment testing, the recoverable amount (i.e. the higher of the fair value less cost to sell and the value-in-use) is determined on an individual asset basis unless the asset does not generate cash flows that are largely independent of those from other assets. In such cases, the recoverable amount is determined for the Cash Generating Unit (CGU) to which the asset belongs. If such assets are considered to be impaired, the impairment to be recognized in the statement of profit and loss is measured by the amount by which the carrying value of the assets exceeds the estimated recoverable amount of the asset. An impairment loss is reversed in the statement of profit and loss if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the recoverable amount. The carrying amount of the asset is increased to its revised recoverable amount, provided that this amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined (net of any accumulated amortization or depreciation) had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset in prior years.

1.12 Foreign Exchange Transactions/Translations

The Company's financial statements are presented in Indian Rupees which is the Company's functional currency.

Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are recorded, on initial recognition in the functional currency, by applying to the foreign currency amount the spot exchange rate between the functional currency and the foreign currency at the date of the transaction.

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies (except financial instruments designated as Hedge Instruments) are translated at the functional currency spot rates of exchange at the reporting date.

Exchange differences arising on settlement or translation of monetary items are recognised in the statement of profit and loss with the exception of the following:

Monetary items that are designated as part of the cash flow hedge instrument are recognised in OCI.

Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the dates of the initial transactions. The gain or loss arising on translation of non-monetary items measured at fair value is treated in line with the recognition of the gain or loss on the change in fair value of the item (i.e., translation differences on items whose fair value gain or loss is recognised in OCI or the statement of profit and loss are also recognised in OCI or the statement of profit and loss, respectively).

Derivative Financial Instruments and Hedge Accounting

The Company uses derivative instruments i.e. Forward contracts to hedge its foreign currency risks. The Company designates these forward contracts as cash flow hedges to mitigate the risk of foreign exchange exposure on highly probable forecast cash transactions. The Company has designated forward instruments on spot to spot basis. The Company recognises the forward points in the statement of profit and loss accounts.

When a derivative is designated as a cash flow hedging instrument, the effective portion of changes in the fair value of the derivative is recognized in other comprehensive income and accumulated in the cash flow hedging reserve. Any ineffective portion of changes in the fair value of the derivative is recognized immediately in the statement of profit and loss. If the hedging instrument no longer meets the criteria for hedge accounting, then hedge accounting is discontinued prospectively. If the hedging instrument expires or is sold, terminated or exercised, the cumulative gain or loss on the hedging instrument recognized in cash flow hedging reserve till the period the hedge was effective remains in cash flow hedging reserve until the forecasted transaction occurs. The cumulative gain or loss previously recognized in the cash flow hedging reserve is transferred in the statement of profit and loss upon the occurrence of the related forecasted transaction. If the forecasted transaction is no longer expected to occur, then the amount accumulated in cash flow hedging reserve is reclassified in the statement of profit and loss.

1.13 Employee Benefits

(a) Short Term Employee Benefit

Short-term employee benefit obligations are measured on undiscounted basis and are expensed as the related service is provided. A liability is recognised for the amount expected to be paid if the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount as a result of past service provided by the employee and the obligation can be estimated reliably.

(b) Defined Contribution Plan

The Company makes defined contribution to Employees Provident Fund Organisation (EPFO), Pension Fund, Superannuation Fund and Employees State Insurance (ESI), which are accounted on accrual basis as expenses in the statement of Profit and Loss in the period during which the related services are rendered by employees.

Prepaid contribution are recognised as an assets to the extent that a cash refund or reduction in future payments is available.

Notes to the Standalone Financial Statement

for the year ended March 31, 2019

(c) Defined Benefit Plan

The Company's net obligation in respect of defined benefit plans is calculated separately for each plan by estimating the amount of future benefit that employees have earned in the current and prior periods, discounting that amount and deducting the fair value of any plan assets.

The calculation of defined benefit obligations is performed annually by a qualified actuary using the projected unit credit method. When the calculation results in a potential asset for the Company, the recognised asset is limited to the present value of economic benefits available in the form of any future refunds from the plan or reductions in future contributions to the plan. In order to calculate the present value of economic benefits, consideration is given to any applicable minimum funding requirements.

Remeasurement of the net defined benefit liability, which comprise actuarial gains and losses, the return on plan assets (excluding interest) and the effect of the asset ceiling (if any, excluding interest), are recognised immediately in other comprehensive Income. Net interest expense (income) on the net defined liability (assets) is computed by applying the discount rate, used to measure the net defined liability (asset), to the net defined liability (asset) at the start of the financial year after taking into account any changes as a result of contribution and benefit payments during the year. Net interest expense and other expenses related to defined benefit plans are recognised in the statement of profit and loss.

When the benefits of a plan are changed or when a plan is curtailed, the resulting change in benefit that relates to past service or the gain or loss on curtailment is recognised immediately in the statement of profit and loss. The Company recognises gains and losses on the settlement of a defined benefit plan when the settlement occurs.

In the case of one location, the Company has set up a trust for Contributions to provident fund, a defined benefit plan, in which the Company contributes as specified under the law. The Company is liable for future provident fund benefits to the extent of its annual contribution and any shortfall in fund assets based on government specified minimum rates of return relating to current period service and recognises such contributions and shortfall, if any, as an expense in the year of recognition.

(d) Other long-term employee benefits

The Company's net obligation in respect of long-term employee benefits is the amount of future benefit that employees have earned in return for their service in the current and prior periods. That benefit is discounted to determine its present value and fair value of any related assets is deducted. The liability for other long term employee benefits are provided based on actuarial valuation as at the Balance Sheet date, based on Projected Unit Credit Method, carried out by an independent actuary. Re-measurements are recognised in the statement of profit and loss in the period in which they arise.

(e) Termination benefits

Termination benefits are recognized as an expense in the period in which they are incurred. The Company recognises a liability and expense for termination benefits at the earlier of the following dates:

- When the entity can no longer withdraw the offer of those benefits; and
- When the entity recognises costs for a restructuring that is within the scope of Ind AS 37 and involves the payment of termination benefits.

If the benefits are not expected to be settled wholly within twelve months of the reporting date, then they are discounted to present value.

1.14 Taxes on Income

Current income tax

Current income-tax is measured at the amount expected to be paid to the tax authorities in accordance with the Income-tax Act, 1961 enacted in India and tax laws prevailing in the respective tax jurisdictions where the Company operates. The tax rates and tax laws used to compute the amount are those that are enacted or substantively enacted, at the reporting date.

Current income tax relating to items recognised outside the statement of profit and loss is recognised outside the statement of profit and loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Current tax items are recognised in correlation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity. Management periodically evaluates positions taken in the tax returns with respect to situations in which applicable tax regulations are subject to interpretation and establishes provisions where appropriate.

for the year ended March 31, 2019

Deferred tax

Deferred tax is provided using the liability method on temporary differences between the tax bases of assets and liabilities and their carrying amounts for financial reporting purposes at the reporting date.

Deferred tax liabilities are recognised for all taxable temporary differences, except:

- When the deferred tax liability arises from the initial recognition of goodwill or an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss.
- In respect of taxable temporary differences associated with investments in associates, when the timing of the reversal of the temporary differences can be controlled and it is probable that the temporary differences will not reverse in the foreseeable future.

Deferred tax assets are recognised for all deductible temporary differences, the carry forward of unused tax credits and any unused tax losses. Deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that taxable profit will be available against which the deductible temporary differences, and the carry forward of unused tax credits and unused tax losses can be utilised, except:

- When the deferred tax asset relating to the deductible temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of an asset or liability in a transaction that is not a business combination and, at the time of the transaction, affects neither the accounting profit nor taxable profit or loss.
- In respect of deductible temporary differences associated with investments in associates, deferred tax assets are recognised only to the extent that it is probable that the temporary differences will reverse in the foreseeable future and taxable profit will be available against which the temporary differences can be utilised.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at each reporting date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available to allow all or part of the deferred tax asset to be utilised. Unrecognised deferred tax assets are re-assessed at each reporting date and are recognised to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profits will allow the deferred tax asset to be recovered.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the asset is realised or the liability is settled, based on tax rates (and tax laws) that have been enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred tax relating to items recognised outside the statement of profit and loss is recognised outside the statement of profit and loss (either in other comprehensive income or in equity). Deferred tax items are recognised in correlation to the underlying transaction either in OCI or directly in equity.

Deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities are offset if a legally enforceable right exists to set off current tax assets against current tax liabilities and the deferred taxes relate to the same taxable entity and the same taxation authority.

Deferred tax assets include Minimum Alternative Tax (MAT) paid in accordance with the tax laws in India, which is likely to give future economic benefits in the form of availability of set off against future income tax liability. Accordingly, MAT is recognised as deferred tax asset in the statement of financial position when the asset can be measured reliably and it is probable that the future economic benefit associated with the asset will be realised.

1.15 Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. When the Company expects some or all of a provision to be reimbursed, for example, under an insurance contract, the reimbursement is recognised as a separate asset, but only when the reimbursement is virtually certain. The expense relating to a provision is presented in the statement of profit and loss net of any reimbursement.

If the effect of the time value of money is material, provisions are discounted using a current pre-tax rate that reflects, when appropriate, the risks specific to the liability. When discounting is used, the increase in the provision due to the passage of time is recognised as a finance cost.

Contingent Liability is disclosed after careful evaluation of facts, uncertainties and possibility of reimbursement, unless

for the year ended March 31, 2019

the possibility of an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is remote. Contingent liabilities are not recognised but are disclosed in notes.

Contingent assets are not recognised. However, when the realisation of income is virtually certain, then the related asset is no longer a contingent asset, but it is recognised as an asset.

1.16 Segment Reporting

The Chief Operational Decision Maker monitors the operating results of its business Segments separately for the purpose of making decisions about resource allocation and performance assessment. Segment performance is evaluated based on profit or loss and is measured consistently with the profit or loss in the financial statements.

The Operating Segments have been identified on the basis of the nature of products/services.

- a) Segment revenue includes sales and other income directly identifiable with/allocable to the segment including inter-segment revenue.
- b) Expenses that are directly identifiable with/allocable to segments are considered for determining the segment results. Expenses which relate to the Company as a whole and not allocable to segments are included under un-allocable expenditure.
- c) Income which relates to the Company as a whole and not allocable to segments is included in un-allocable income.
- d) Segment result includes margin on inter-segment sales which are reduced in arriving at the profit before tax of the Company.
- e) Segment assets and liabilities include those directly identifiable with the respective segments. Un-allocable assets and liabilities represent the assets and liabilities that relate to the Company as a whole and not allocable to any segment.

Inter-Segment transfer pricing

Segment revenue resulting from transactions with other business segments is accounted on the basis of transfer price agreed between the segments. Such transfer prices are either determined to yield a desired margin or agreed on a negotiated basis and are on an arm's length basis in a manner similar to transactions with third parties.

These transfers are eliminated in consolidation.

1.17 Earning Per Share

Basic earnings per equity share is computed by dividing the net profit attributable to the equity holders of the Company by the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the period. Diluted earnings per equity share is computed by dividing the net profit attributable to the equity holders of the Company by the weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per equity share and also the weighted average number of equity shares that could have been issued upon conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. The dilutive potential equity shares are adjusted for the proceeds receivable had the equity shares been actually issued at fair value (i.e. the average market value of the outstanding equity shares). Dilutive potential equity shares are deemed converted as of the beginning of the period, unless issued at a later date. Dilutive potential equity shares are determined independently for each period presented. The number of equity shares and potentially dilutive equity shares are adjusted retrospectively for all periods presented for any share splits and bonus shares issues including for changes effected prior to the approval of the financial statements by the Board of Directors.

1.18 Statement of Cash Flow

Cash flows are reported using the indirect method, whereby profit for the period is adjusted for the effects of transactions of a non-cash nature, any deferrals or accruals of past or future operating cash receipts or payments and item of income or expenses associated with investing or financing cash flows. The cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities of the Company are segregated.

1.19 Borrowing Costs

Borrowing costs directly attributable to the acquisition, construction or production of an asset that necessarily takes a substantial period of time to get ready for its intended use or sale are capitalised as part of the cost of the asset. All other borrowing costs are expensed in the period in which they occur. Borrowing costs consist of interest and other costs that an entity incurs in connection with the borrowing of funds. Borrowing cost also includes exchange differences to the extent regarded as an adjustment to the borrowing costs.

1.20 Fair Value Measurement

The Company measures financial instruments, such as, derivatives at fair value at each balance sheet date.

Fair value is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The fair value measurement is based on the presumption that the transaction to sell the asset or transfer the liability takes place either:

- In the principal market for the asset or liability, or
- In the absence of a principal market, in the most advantageous market for the asset or liability and the Company has access to the principal or the most advantageous market.

The fair value of an asset or a liability is measured using the assumptions that market participants would use when pricing the asset or liability, assuming that market participants act in their economic best interest.

A fair value measurement of a non-financial asset takes into account a market participant's ability to generate economic benefits by using the asset in its highest and best use or by selling it to another market participant that would use the asset in its highest and best use.

The Company uses valuation techniques that are appropriate in the circumstances and for which sufficient data are available to measure fair value, maximising the use of relevant observable inputs and minimising the use of unobservable inputs.

All assets and liabilities for which fair value is measured or disclosed in the financial statements are categorised within the fair value hierarchy, described as follows, based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole:

Level 1 - Quoted (unadjusted) market prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities

Level 2 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is directly or indirectly observable.

Level 3 - Valuation techniques for which the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement is unobservable.

For assets and liabilities that are recognised in the financial statements on a recurring basis, the Company determines whether transfers have occurred between levels in the hierarchy by re-assessing categorisation (based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement as a whole) at the end of each reporting period.

For the purpose of fair value disclosures, the Company has determined classes of assets and liabilities on the basis of the nature, characteristics and the risks of the asset or liability and the level of the fair value hierarchy as explained above. This note summarises accounting policy for fair value. Other fair value related disclosures are given in the relevant notes.

1.21 Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents in the balance sheet comprise cash at banks and on hand, short-term deposits and other short-term highly liquid investments with an original maturity of three months or less that are readily convertible to a known amount of cash and are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value and are held for the purpose of meeting short-term cash commitments.

For the purposes of the presentation of cash flow statement, cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, in banks and demand deposits with banks, net of outstanding bank overdrafts that are repayable on demand, book overdraft as they being considered as integral part of the Company's cash management system.

1.22 Non-Current Assets Held for Sale

The Company classifies non-current assets and disposal groups as held for sale if their carrying amounts will be recovered principally through a sale/distribution rather than through continuing use and the sale is considered highly probable. Management is committed to the sale within one year from the date of classification.

The Company treats sale/distribution of the asset or disposal group to be highly probable when:

- The appropriate level of management is committed to a plan to sell the asset (or disposal group),
- An active programme to locate a buyer and complete the plan has been initiated (if applicable),
- The asset (or disposal group) is being actively marketed for sale at a price that is reasonable in relation to its current fair value,
- The sale is expected to qualify for recognition as a completed sale within one year from the date of classification, and

for the year ended March 31, 2019

- Actions required to complete the plan indicated that it is unlikely that significant changes to the plan will be made or that the plan will be withdrawn.

Non-current asset held for sale/for distribution to owners and disposal groups are measured at the lower of their carrying amount and the fair value less costs to sell/distribute. Assets and liabilities classified as held for sale/distribution are presented separately in the balance sheet.

Property, plant and equipment and intangible assets once classified as held for sale/distribution to owners are neither depreciated nor amortized.

1.23 Investments in Subsidiaries and Associates

A subsidiary is an entity in which the Company either at its own or together with one or more of its subsidiary companies, has acquired more than one-half of its total share capital. The investment in subsidiaries are carried at cost less impairments. The cost comprises, price paid to acquire investment and directly attributable cost.

An associate is an entity over which the Company has significant influence. Significant influence is the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of the investee but is not control or joint control over those policies. The investment in associates are carried at cost less impairments. The cost comprises, price paid to acquire investment and directly attributable cost.

2. Use of Critical Judgments, Estimates and Assumptions

The preparation of the Company's financial statements requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of revenues, expenses, assets and liabilities, the accompanying disclosures, and the disclosure of contingent liabilities.

The key assumptions concerning the future and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the reporting date, that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial years are described below. The Company based its assumptions and estimates or parameters available when the financial statements were prepared. Existing circumstances and assumptions about future developments, however, may change due to market changes or circumstances arising that are beyond the control of the Company. Such changes are reflected in the assumptions when they occur.

(a) Property, Plant and Equipment and Intangible assets

Internal technical or user team assesses the remaining useful life of the Property, Plant and Equipment and Intangible assets. Management believes that assigned useful lives are reasonable.

(b) Embedded Lease

In assessing the applicability to arrangement entered into by the Company, the management has exercised the judgment to evaluate the right to use the asset or assets on substance of the transaction including legally enforced arrangement and other significant terms of the contract to conclude whether the arrangement meets the criteria under Appendix C of the Ind AS 17.

(c) Impairment of non-financial assets

In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset.

In determining fair value less costs of disposal, recent market transactions are taken into account. If no such transactions can be identified, an appropriate valuation model is used. These calculations are corroborated by valuation multiples, quoted share prices for publicly traded companies or other available fair value indicators.

(d) Impairment of financial assets

The impairment provisions for financial assets are based on assumptions about risk of default and expected loss rates. The Company uses judgement in making assumption and selecting the inputs to the impairment calculation, based on Company's past history, existing market conditions as well as forward estimate at the end of each reporting period.

(e) Investment in subsidiaries and associates

A subsidiary is an entity in which the Company either at its own or together with one or more of its subsidiary companies, has acquired more than one half of its total share capital. As on March 31, 2019, the Company holds 54.26% of equity shares in LNJ Skills and Rozgar Private Limited and therefore the said company has been termed as subsidiary of the Company.

As per Ind AS 28, an entity is considered as an associate when the investing Company has significant influence over the

for the year ended March 31, 2019

entity. The existence of significant influence by an investor is determined based on factors such as, representation on the board of directors or equivalent governing body of investee, participation in policy-making processes, including participation in decisions about dividends or other distributions, material transactions between the entity and its investee, interchange of managerial personnel or provision of essential technical information. The Company holds 17.78% (which is less than 20 %) of the equity shares of Bhilwara Energy Limited (BEL). As the amount invested in BEL is significant, the board of directors regularly reviews the progress of the BEL and suggestion/comments/concerns of the board of Company are conveyed to the board of directors of BEL by common directors. In order to monitor the progress of BEL, the board of directors has decided to nominate at least one director on the board of BEL. In Light of above, the board of directors have concluded that, the Company has a significant influence on BEL.

(f) Assets Held for Sale

Management's Judgment is required for identifying the assets which are classified as held for sale if their carrying amount will be recovered principally through a sale transaction rather than through continuing use. This condition is regarded as met only when the asset is available for immediate sale in its present condition subject only to terms that are usual and customary for sales of such asset and its sale is highly probable which could lead to significant judgment. Management is committed to the sale, which should be expected to qualify for recognition as a completed sale within one year from the date of classification.

(g) Income taxes

Management's judgment is required for the calculation of provision for income taxes and deferred tax assets and liabilities. The Company reviews at each balance sheet date the carrying amount of deferred tax assets. The factors used in estimates may differ from actual outcome which could lead to significant adjustment to the amounts reported in the financial statements.

(h) Contingencies

Management's judgment is required for estimating the possible outflow of resources, if any, in respect of contingencies/claim/litigations against the Company as it is not possible to predict the outcome of pending matters with accuracy.

(i) Defined Benefit Plans

The cost of the defined benefit plans and other post-employment benefits and the present value of such obligations are determined using actuarial valuations. An actuarial valuation involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in future. These include the determination of the discount rate, future salary increases, mortality rates and attrition rate. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long-term nature, a defined benefit obligation is highly sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed at each reporting date.

(j) Insurance claims

Insurance claims are recognized when the Company has reasonable certainty of recovery. Subsequently any change in recoverability is provided for.

34 Employee Benefits

The Company participates in defined contribution and benefit schemes, the assets of which are held (where funded) in separately administered funds. For defined contribution schemes the amount charged to the statements of profit or loss is the total of contributions payable during the year.

Employees Provident Fund

In accordance with the Employees Provident Fund & Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1952, employees are entitled to receive benefits under the Provident Fund. Both the employees and the employer make monthly contributions to the plan at a predetermined rate (12% for FY 2018-19) of an employee's basic salary. All employees have an option to make additional voluntary contributions. These contributions are made to the fund administered and managed by the Employees Provident Fund Organisation (EPFO) or to independently managed and approved funds. The Company has no further obligations under the fund managed by the EPFO beyond its monthly contributions which are charged to the statement of profit and loss in the period they are incurred. The benefits are paid to employees on their retirement or resignation from the Company. Provident fund set up by the employer, which requires interest shortfall to be met by the employer, needs to be treated as defined benefit plan. The Company set up Provident Fund does not have existing deficit of interest shortfall.

Superannuation

The Company has no further obligations under the scheme beyond its monthly contributions which are charged to the statement of profit and loss in the period they are incurred.

Gratuity Plan

In accordance with the provisions of Payment of Gratuity Act 1972, for its eligible employees, the Company contributes to a defined benefit plan (the "Gratuity Plan"). The Gratuity Plan provides a lump sum payment to vested employees at retirement, disability or termination of employment being an amount based on the respective employee's last drawn salary and the number of years of employment with the Company. c. The Appellate Tribunal for Electricity ("the Tribunal") vide its order dated April 16, 2019 under Appeal No. 146 of 2017 has dismissed the appeal preferred by Rajasthan Renewable Energy Corporation Limited ("the RREC") in favour of the Company and other Respondents stating that as per Section 86(1)(e) of the Electricity Act, 2003 ("the Act"), both the categories of generators of energy i.e., co-generators and generators of electricity through renewable sources of energy are entitled to be treated at par and both of them must be promoted by the State Electricity Commission. The intention of the legislature is to clearly promote co-generation of electricity irrespective of the nature of fuel used for co-generation. The Tribunal further observed that the fastening of the obligation on the co-generator to procure electricity from renewable energy producers would defeat the object of the said Section. It also observed that as long as captive consumers consume electricity from co-generating unit beyond the RPO, there is no obligation to purchase RE Certificates or consume renewable energy separately. It was also opined that once the entities comply with the obligations under section 86(1)(e) of the Act, in terms of the above observations, they cannot be asked to comply with the obligations by purchasing Renewable Energy Certificates (RECs). In view of the above judgement, there is no Renewable Purchase Obligation on the Company.
The Company has also made a power purchase agreement with LNJ Power Ventures Limited to purchase wind power. The Company has also commissioned 10.05 MW solar power generating units at its various business locations (including 6.75 MW under opex arrangements). It is also in the process of commissioning additional 12.63 MW solar power generating units at its various business locations (including 12.31 MW under opex arrangements).
d. TNEB Limited supplied the electricity to all their HT consumers based on their previous three years consumption and introduced cross subsidy surcharge for the unutilized portion of "units quota" so fixed, whenever power was purchased by a consumer from 3rd party or from Energy Exchange. On being legally challenged, Supreme Court by its order dated 20.07.2015 directed that the status quo has to be maintained i.e. no cross subsidy charges to be collected. Therefore, management does not foresee any possible liability in this regards.
e. Hon'ble Supreme Court has pronounced a judgement in February, 2019 making clarification with respect to the definition of Wages for the purpose of Employees Provident Fund contribution. Further petitions have been filed with the Hon'ble Supreme Court seeking additional clarifications and there has been no clarity either from Government, or from other concerned authorities. In light of the above, the Company has not made any provision of the same in the financial statements. However, appropriate accounting treatment will be given in its ensuing financial statements as and when clarification is received.
f. The Company has reviewed all its pending litigations and proceedings and has adequately provided for where provisions are required and disclosed as contingent liabilities where applicable, in its financial statements. The Company also believes that the above issues, when finally settled are not likely to have any significant impact on the financial position of the Company. The Company does not expect any third party reimbursements in respect of above contingent liabilities. (Please refer note 45 on litigation).

Valuation Technique used to determine Fair Value

The Company maintains policies and procedures to value financial assets or financial liabilities using the best and most relevant data available. The fair values of the financial assets and liabilities are included at the amount that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair values:

- 1) Fair value of cash and deposits, trade receivables, trade payables, and other current financial assets and liabilities measured at amortized cost is approximate to their carrying amounts largely due to the short-term maturities of these instruments. The fair value of other non-current financial assets and liabilities (security deposit taken/given and advance to employees) carried at amortized cost is approximately equal to fair value. Hence carrying value and fair value is taken same.
- 2) Long-term variable-rate borrowings measured at amortized cost are evaluated by the Company based on parameters such as interest rates, specific country risk factors, credit risk and other risk characteristics. Fair value of variable interest rate borrowings approximates their carrying values. Risk of other factors for the company is considered to be insignificant in valuation.
- 3) The fair values of the forward contract is determined using the forward exchange rate at the balance sheet date based on quotes from banks and financial institutions. Management has evaluated the credit and non-performance risks associated with its derivative counterparties and believe them to be insignificant and not warranting a credit adjustment.
- 4) The fair values of the Quoted Equity shares have been done on quoted price of stock exchange as on reporting date.
- 5) Investment in the Unquoted Debenture have been valued considering the market coupon rate of similar financial instruments.

Credit risk has always been managed by the Company through credit approvals, establishing credit limits and continuously monitoring the creditworthiness of customers to which the Company grants credit terms in the normal course of business. The Company evaluates the concentration of risk with respects to trade receivables as low, as its customers are located in several jurisdictions and industries and operate in largely independent markets. A default on a financial assets is when a counter party fails to make the payment within 365 days, when they fall due. This definition of default is determined by considering the business environment in which the entity operates and other macro economic factors. the leases in those cases are for short term having low value of assets, the impact of the new Ind AS 116 shall not have any material impact on its financial statements.

2. Amendment to Ind AS 109: 'Financial Instruments':

The amendment pertains to classification of financial instruments with feature of prepayment with negative compensation, which permits the holder or the borrower to make the prepayment and at the same time permits the lender or the issuer to put the instrument for repayment before the holder or borrower for making its payment before its maturity at an amount less than unpaid amount of principal and interest. Such instruments can be measured at amortised cost or at fair value through the statement of profit and loss or other comprehensive income by lender or issuer. The Company has evaluated the effect of the said amendment and found that since it is not dealing in such financial instruments, there will not be any impact of this amendment on its financial statements.

3. Amendment to Ind AS 19: 'Employee Benefits':

The amendment relates to measurement and disclosure of effects of plan amendment, curtailment and settlement. When an entity determines the past service cost at the time of plan amendment or curtailment, it shall re-measure the amount of net defined benefit liability/asset using the current value of plan assets and current actuarial assumptions which should reflect the benefits offered under the plan and plan assets before and after the plan amendment, curtailment and settlement. The Company has evaluated the effect of the said amendment and found that there will not be any material impact of this amendment on its financial statements.

4. Amendment to Ind AS 103: 'Business Combinations':

The amendment relates to provide additional guidance in case of party to the joint operation, achieved control over the joint operation. Such transaction is required to be accounted like the business combination achieved in stages. The Company has evaluated the effect of the said amendment and found that there will not be any material impact of this amendment on its financial statements.

5. Amendment to Ind AS 111: 'Joint Arrangements':

As per the said amendment, a party participating in a joint operation but does not have joint control, shall not re-measure its previously held interest in the joint operation, which constitutes a business, while attaining the joint control over the joint operation, on acquisition of additional interest or otherwise. The Company has evaluated the effect of the said amendment and found that there will not be any material impact of this amendment on its financial statements.

6. Amendment to Ind AS 28: 'Investments in Associates and Joint Ventures':

The said amendment clarifies that Ind AS 109 should be applied to the financial instruments, including long-term interests in associates and joint venture, that, in substance, form part of an entity's net investment in associate or joint venture, to which the equity method is not applied. The Company has evaluated the effect of the said amendment and found that since the company already applies equity method for investments made in associates and joint ventures, this amendment shall not have any impact on its financial statements.

7. Amendment to Ind AS 23: 'Borrowing Costs':

The said amendment clarifies that the borrowing cost applicable to borrowing made specifically for obtaining a qualifying asset, shall be excluded while determining the general capitalization rate until substantially all the activities necessary make such specific asset useful for the intended purpose or its sale are completed. 8. Amendment to Ind AS 12: 'Income Taxes':

The first amendment relates to creation of a corresponding liability for payment of Dividend Distribution Tax (DDT) when it recognises a liability to pay a dividend. The Company has evaluated the effect of the said amendment and found that it is already creating corresponding liability for payment of DDT when it recognises a liability to pay a dividend. So, there is no impact on its financial statements further, due to this amendment. The second amendment relates to recognition of tax consequence of an item whose tax treatment is uncertain. The Company has evaluated the effect of the said amendment and found that it is already recognising tax liability in all such cases where it considers that the tax treatment is uncertain. with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the consolidated financial statements under the provisions of the Act and the Rules made thereunder, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the ICAI's Code of Ethics. We believe that the audit evidence obtained by us and the audit evidence obtained by other auditors in terms of their reports referred to in the Other Matters section below is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the consolidated financial statements.

Material Uncertainty Related to Going Concern

Relating to Subsidiary of an Associate

In case of Chango Yangthang Hydro Power Limited (CYHPL), a subsidiary of an associate Bhilwara Energy Limited (BEL), as stated in Note No. 47 ii) b) of the Consolidated Financial Statements, the board of directors of CYHPL decision to surrender the Chango Yangthang HEP (180 MW) project to Directorate of Energy, Government of Himachal Pradesh due to delay and uncertainty in project execution/long delay in Government approvals and licenses lapse. Further, CYHPL had written off capital work in progress amounting to ₹2,713.18 Lakhs during the previous year. As CYHPL was incorporated as Special Purpose Vehicle (SPV) hence these events/conditions indicate that there exists material uncertainty that may cast significant doubt on ability to continue as a going concern. This matter was reported under heading "Material uncertainty relating to Going Concern" in the auditor's report on consolidated financial statements of an associate (BEL). Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

Emphasis of matter:

Relating to Subsidiary of an Associate

Attention is drawn to:

- In case of Chango Yang Thang Hydro Power Limited (CYHPL),

a subsidiary of an Associate (BEL), as stated in Note No 47 ii) b) of the consolidated financial statements regarding pending refund of upfront premium ₹3,789.45 Lakhs and Security Deposit of ₹180 Lakhs (Company indirect share of ₹705.76 Lakhs) with interest from the Directorate of Energy, Government of Himachal Pradesh, where the management of CYHPL is confident of recovering the upfront premium and security deposit.

- b) In case of NJC Hydro Power Limited (NHPL), a subsidiary of an Associate (BEL), as stated in Note No 47 ii) c) of the consolidated financial statements regarding the viability of the Nyamjang Chhu HEP Project is dependent on the outcome of the report of Wildlife Institute of India, Dehradun. The auditor of Associate (BEL) reported in their consolidated Auditor's Report that they are unable to comment on the financial implications and the future operations of the NHPL till outcome of report of Wildlife Institute of India, Dehradun.
- c) In case of Malana Power Company Limited, a subsidiary of an Associate (BEL), as stated in Note No 47 ii) d) of the consolidated financial statements which describes the uncertainty relating to the effects of outcome of litigation with Himachal Pradesh State Electricity Board (HPSEBL).

The Emphasis of matters were reported in the auditor's report on consolidated financial statements of an associate. Our opinion is not modified in respect of above matters.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the consolidated financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

We have determined that there are no key audit matters to be communicated in our report.

Information Other than the Consolidated Financial Statements and Auditor's Report Thereon

The Holding Company's is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the Management Discussion and Analysis, Board's Report including Annexures to Board's Report, Business Responsibility Report, Corporate Governance and Shareholder's Information, but does not include the consolidated financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the consolidated financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the consolidated financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Management's Responsibility for the Consolidated Financial Statements

The Holding Company's Board of Directors is responsible for the preparation and presentation of these consolidated financial statements in term of the requirements of the Companies Act, 2013 that give a true and fair view of the consolidated financial position, consolidated financial performance and consolidated cash flows of the Group including its Associate in accordance with the accounting principles generally accepted in India, including the Accounting Standards specified under section 133 of the Act. The respective Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group and of its associates are responsible for maintenance of adequate accounting records in accordance with the provisions of the Act for safeguarding the assets of the Group and for preventing and detecting frauds and other irregularities; selection and application of appropriate accounting policies; making judgments and estimates that are reasonable and prudent; and the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls, that were operating effectively for ensuring accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, relevant to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements that give a true and fair view and are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, which have been used for the purpose of preparation of the consolidated financial statements by the Directors of the Holding Company, as aforesaid.

In preparing the consolidated financial statements, the respective Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group and of its associate are responsible for assessing the ability of the Group and of its associates to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Group or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The respective Board of Directors of the companies included in the Group and of its associate are responsible for overseeing the financial reporting process of the Group and of its associates.

Auditor's Responsibility for the Audit of the Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal financial control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances. Under section 143(3)(i) of the Act, we are also responsible for expressing our opinion on whether the Holding Company has adequate internal financial controls system in place and the operating effectiveness of such controls.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the ability of the Group to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Group to cease to continue as a going concern.

- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.
- Obtain sufficient appropriate audit evidence regarding the financial information of the entities or business activities within the Group to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements. We are responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audit of the financial statements of such entities included in the consolidated financial statements of which we are the independent auditors. For the other entities included in the consolidated financial statements, which have been audited by other auditors, such other auditors remain responsible for the direction, supervision and performance of the audits carried out by them. We remain solely responsible for our audit opinion.

Materiality is the magnitude of misstatements in the consolidated financial statements that, individually or in aggregate, makes it probable that the economic decisions of a reasonably knowledgeable user of the consolidated financial statements may be influenced. We consider quantitative materiality and qualitative factors in (i) planning the scope of our audit work and in evaluating the results of our work; and (ii) to evaluate the effect of any identified misstatements in the consolidated financial statements.

We communicate with those charged with governance of the Holding Company and other entities included in the consolidated financial statements of which we are the independent auditors regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the consolidated financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditor's report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

Other Matters

We did not audit the financial statements of two subsidiaries (Including one step-down subsidiary) whose financial statements reflect total assets of ₹1,664.65 Lakhs, net assets of ₹1,048.52 Lakhs and net cash inflows of ₹(278.26) Lakhs as at March 31, 2019, total revenues of ₹1,187.84 Lakhs, total profit/(loss) after tax of ₹109.98 Lakhs and Other Comprehensive Income of ₹(0.07) Lakhs for year ended on that date, as considered in the consolidated financial statements. Annexure "A" to the Independent Auditor's Report (Referred to in paragraph (f) under 'Report on Other Legal and Regulatory Requirements' section of our report of even date)

Report on the Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting under Clause (i) of Sub-section 3 of Section 143 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("the Act")

In conjunction with our audit of the consolidated Ind AS financial statements of the Company as of and for the year ended March 31, 2019, we have audited the internal financial controls over financial reporting RSMW Limited (hereinafter referred to as "the Holding Company") and its two subsidiary companies (including one step-down subsidiary) and associate, which are the Company incorporated in India, as of that date.

Management's Responsibility for Internal Financial Controls

The respective Board of Directors of the Holding company , its subsidiary company and its associate company which is the company incorporated in India, are responsible for establishing and maintaining internal financial controls based on the internal control over financial reporting criteria established by the Company considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI). These responsibilities include the design, implementation and maintenance of adequate internal financial controls that were operating effectively for ensuring the orderly and efficient conduct of its business, including adherence to the respective company's policies, the safeguarding of its assets, the prevention and detection of frauds and errors, the accuracy and completeness of the accounting records, and the timely preparation of reliable financial information, as required under the Companies Act, 2013.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the internal financial controls over financial reporting of the Holding Company, its subsidiary company and associate which is the company incorporated in India, based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting (the "Guidance Note") issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India and the Standards on Auditing, prescribed under Section 143(10) of the Companies Act, 2013, to the extent applicable to an audit of internal financial controls. Those Standards and the Guidance Note require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether adequate internal financial controls over financial reporting was established and maintained and if such controls operated effectively in all material respects.

Our audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the adequacy of the internal financial controls system over financial reporting and their operating effectiveness. Our audit of internal financial controls over financial reporting included obtaining an understanding of internal financial controls over financial reporting, assessing the risk that a material weakness exists, and testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control based on the assessed risk. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained and the audit evidence obtained by the other auditors in terms of their reports referred to in the Other Matter paragraph below, is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion on the internal financial controls system over financial reporting of the Holding Company, its subsidiary company and associate which is the company incorporated in India.

Meaning of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

A company's internal financial control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal financial control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (1) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (2) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorisations of management and directors of the company; and (3) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorised acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Inherent Limitations of Internal Financial Controls over Financial Reporting

Because of the inherent limitations of internal financial controls over financial reporting, including the possibility of collusion or improper management override of controls, material misstatements due to error or fraud may occur and not be detected. Also, projections of any evaluation of the internal financial controls over financial reporting to future periods are subject to the risk that the internal financial control over financial reporting may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

In our opinion to the best of our information and according to the explanations given to us and based on the consideration of reports of the other auditors, the Holding Company, subsidiaries company (including a step-down subsidiary) and associate, which is the company incorporated in India, have, in all material respects, an adequate internal financial controls system over financial reporting and such internal financial controls over financial reporting were operating effectively as at March 31, 2019, based on the criteria for internal financial control over financial reporting established by the respective companies considering the essential components of internal control stated in the Guidance Note on Audit of Internal Financial Controls Over Financial Reporting issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India.

Other matters

Our aforesaid reports under Section 143(3)(i) of the Act on the adequacy and operating effectiveness of the internal financial controls over financial reporting insofar as it relates to 2 subsidiaries (including a step-down subsidiary) and an associate, which are companies incorporated in India, is based on the corresponding reports of the auditors of such companies incorporated in India.

liabilities which have been measured at fair value:

- Defined benefit plans-plan assets measured at fair value.

Accounting policies have been consistently applied except where a newly issued accounting standard is initially adopted or a revision to an existing accounting standard requires a change in the accounting policy hitherto in use.

The consolidated financial statements are presented in ₹ which is also the Company's functional currency and all values are rounded to the nearest ₹ in Lakhs, except where otherwise indicated.

(a) Basis of Consolidation

The consolidated financial statements comprise the financial statements of the Company and its subsidiary/associate companies.

A subsidiary is an entity in which the Company either at its own or together with one or more of its subsidiary companies, has acquired more than one-half of its total share capital.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statement

An associate is an entity over which the Company has significant influence or holding substantial number of shares with voting rights. Significant influence is the power to participate in the financial and operating decisions of the investee. In case of associate, the Company has as such, no control over their policies.

(i) The group combines the financial statements of its Subsidiary company line by line adding together like items of assets, liabilities, equity, income and expenses. Inter-company transactions, balances and unrealized gains on transactions between group companies are eliminated. Unrealized losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of an impairment of the transferred asset.

Non-controlling interests in the results and equity of subsidiary company are shown separately in the consolidated statement of profit and loss, consolidated statement of changes in equity and consolidated balance sheet respectively.

(ii) Investments in Associates are accounted for, using equity method of accounting: Under the equity method of accounting, the investments are initially recognised at cost and adjusted thereafter to recognize the group's share of the post-acquisition profits or losses of the investee in profit and loss, and the group's share of other comprehensive income of the investee in other comprehensive income. Dividends received or receivable from associates are recognised as a reduction in the carrying amount of the investment. When the group's share of losses in an equity-accounted investment equals or exceeds its interest in the entity, including any other unsecured long-term receivables, the group does not recognize further losses, unless it has incurred obligations or made payments on behalf of the other entity. Unrealized gains on transactions between the group and its associates are eliminated to the extent of the group's interest in these entities. Unrealized losses are also eliminated unless the transaction provides evidence of an impairment of the asset transferred. Accounting policies of equity accounted investees have been changed where necessary to ensure consistency with the policies adopted by the group. The carrying amount of equity accounted investments is tested for impairment in accordance with the policy.

(b) Use of Estimates

The preparation of the consolidated financial statements in conformity with Ind AS requires management to make estimates, judgments and assumptions. These estimates, judgments and assumptions affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosures of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the consolidated financial statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the period. Application of accounting policies that require critical accounting estimates involving complex and subjective judgments and the use of assumptions in these financial statements have been disclosed in Note 2 annexed to the standalone financial statements.

Accounting estimates could change from period to period. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Appropriate changes in estimates are made as management becomes aware of changes in circumstances surrounding the estimates. Changes in estimates are reflected in the consolidated financial statements in the period in which changes are made and, if material, their effects are disclosed in the notes to the financial statements.

(c) Classification of Assets and Liabilities as Current and Non-Current

All Assets and Liabilities have been classified as current or non-current. Based on the nature of product & activities of the Group and their realization in cash and cash equivalent, the Group has determined its operating cycle as 12 months for the purpose of current and non-current classification of assets and liabilities.

Valuation Technique used to determine Fair Value

The Company maintains policies and procedures to value financial assets or financial liabilities using the best and most relevant data available. The fair values of the financial assets and liabilities are included at the amount that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date. The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair values:

- 1) Fair value of cash and deposits, trade receivables, trade payables, and other current financial assets and liabilities measured at amortized cost is approximate to their carrying amounts largely due to the short-term maturities of these instruments. The fair value of other non-current financial assets and liabilities (security deposit taken/given and advance to employees) carried at amortized cost is approximately equal to fair value. Hence carrying value and fair value is taken same.
- 2) Long-term variable-rate borrowings measured at amortized cost are evaluated by the Company based on parameters such as interest rates, specific country risk factors, credit risk and other risk characteristics. Fair value of variable interest rate borrowings approximates their carrying values. Risk of other factors for the company is considered to be insignificant in valuation.
- 3) The fair values of the forward contract is determined using the forward exchange rate at the balance sheet date based on quotes from banks and financial institutions. Management has evaluated the credit and non-performance risks associated with its derivative counterparties and believe them to be insignificant and not warranting a credit adjustment.

Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statement

for the year ended March 31, 2019

(Amounts in ₹ Lakhs, unless otherwise stated)

42 A: Financial Instruments (contd.)

- 4) The fair values of the Quoted Equity shares have been done on quoted price of stock exchange as on reporting date.
- 5) Investment in the Unquoted Debenture have been valued considering the market coupon rate of similar financial instruments.

Financial assets are written off when there is no reasonable expectation of recovery. Whereas the loans and receivables were written off and subsequently recoveries are made, these are recognised as an income in the financial statements.

-Trade Receivables

Trade receivables are typically unsecured and are derived from revenue earned from customers. Credit risk has always been managed by the Company through credit approvals, establishing credit limits and continuously monitoring the creditworthiness of customers to which the Company grants credit terms in the normal course of business. This definition of default is determined by considering the business environment in which the entity operates and other macro economic factors. The Company uses expected credit loss model to assess the impairment loss or gain. The Company uses a provision matrix to compute the expected credit loss allowance for trade receivables. Derivatives (Forward Contracts)

Derivatives are entered with banks, counter parties which have low credit risk, based on external credit ratings of counter parties.

For other financial assets the Company monitors ratings, credit spreads and financial strengths of its counterparties. The Company's treasury department is responsible for liquidity, funding as well as settlement management. In addition, processes and policies related to such risk are overseen by senior management. The Company relies on a mix of borrowings, capital infusion and excess operating cash flows to meet its needs for funds. The current committed lines of credit are sufficient to meet its short to medium term expansion needs. The Company manages liquidity risk by maintaining adequate reserves, banking facilities and reserve borrowing facilities, by continuously monitoring forecast and actual cash flows, and by matching the maturity profiles of financial assets and liabilities. The Company monitors rolling forecasts of its liquidity requirements to ensure it has sufficient cash to meet operational needs while maintaining sufficient headroom on its undrawn committed borrowing facilities at all times so that the Company does not breach borrowing limits or covenants (where applicable) on any of its borrowing facilities.

associates and joint venture, that, in substance, form part of an entity's net investment in associate or joint venture, to which the equity method is not applied.

The Company has evaluated the effect of the said amendment and found that since the company already applies equity method for investments made in associates and joint ventures, this amendment shall not have any impact on its financial statements.

7. Amendment to Ind AS 23: 'Borrowing Costs':

The said amendment clarifies that the borrowing cost applicable to borrowing made specifically for obtaining a qualifying asset, shall be excluded while determining the general capitalization rate until substantially all the activities necessary make such specific asset useful for the intended purpose or its sale are completed.

d) Malana Power Company Limited (MPCL), which is the subsidiary of BEL, had entered into an agreement for wheeling of power, transmission charges and wheeling losses with Himachal Pradesh State Electricity Board Limited (HPSEBL) on March 3, 1999, duly prescribing therein the detailed terms & conditions as to how wheeling charges/transmission charges and wheeling losses are to be paid by MPCL for 40 years. In the year 2015, HPSEBL started demanding wheeling and transmission charges on the basis of regulations and tariff orders passed by Himachal Pradesh Electricity Regulatory Commission (HPERC) which were contested by MPCL, first before the Hon'ble High Court of Himachal Pradesh and then before the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India (the SC). The SC vide its order dated March 30, 2019 held that multi-year tariff (MYT) orders passed by HPERC are applicable on MPCL. Accordingly, HPSEBL in April, 2019 raised a provisional demand of ₹8,069.25 Lakhs (indirect share of Company ₹731.70 Lakhs) on MPCL for the period from April 1, 2008 to March 31, 2019. In view of the same, MPCL has preferred an appeal before the Hon'ble Appellate Tribunal of Electricity on April 24, 2019.
